Gen. Roosevelt, Son of T. R., Dies of Heart Attack in France

Assistant Commander of Fourth Division Stricken While Resting in His Headquarters, a Captured German Truck.

BRIG. GEN. ROOSEVELT

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 14 — Brig Gen. Theodore Roosevelt Jr, 56, adventurous son of the former president, died Wednesday night of a heart attack as he rested in a captured German truck on the Normandy battlefield.

His death came at 11:45 p m in his office-bedroom in the converted truck at the conclusion of an arduous day of carrying encouragement and guidance to the troops of the Fourth infantry division, of which he was assistant commanding general

He will be buried tonight with full military honors in the land he twice fought to free from the Germans

High-ranking officers, including Lt Gen Omar N. Bradley, commander of the First army, and Maj Gen Joseph Lawton Collins, conqueror of Cherbourg and commander of the U. S Seventh corps, and scores of doughboys will attend the burial ceremony in an American cemetery

His son, Quentin, a captain in the First infantry division which his father once served as deputy commander, also will be present The Fourth division band will give a musical salute.

(Gen Roosevelt's only surviving brother, Lieut Col Archibald Roosevelt, was wounded in the left leg by shrapnel in the fighting on Biak island June 20. His wife said at New York he had written that the wound was not serious but that broncho-pneumonia and other complications had developed

Brother Dies in War

(Another brother, Major Kermit Roosevelt, died in active service with the armed forces in Alaska, June 4 1943).

Roosevelt, whose cheerful grin was a familiar sight during this war in many an advanced observation post in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France, was stricken with a slight heart attack five days ago, but he insisted on continuing his strenuous daily tours.

Returning late Wednesday, he admitted he felt tired and told his son, Capt. Quentin Roosevelt, "the old machine is pretty well worn down" Quentin an officer in the First infantry division, returned to his post only two hours before the general died

Like his father before him, General Roosevelt led a strenuous life He fought in both World wars and between them made a number of hunting trips to out-of-the-way places throughout the world.

In the last war he fought in France with the First infantry division—the division always closest to his heart Starting as a major he finished as a colonel and was wounded three times

In this war as the First division's deputy commanding general, he rode in the forefront of its amphibious assault landings in Algeria and Sicily. Later he served in Sardinia Corsica and Italy as liaison officer with the French

Returned to Britain last March by plane, suffering from pneumonia, the general constantly fretted that he might miss the biggest show of all—the invasion of Europe. But once again he was on hand for the start of battle and landed with the first wave.

Battle Casualty

"General Roosevelt really was a battle casualty," said Maj Gen. R O Barton, the Fourth division commander. "All day long he rode the lines He spared himself nothing. In fact, he had been out at command posts cheering the men, helping commanders and helping me

"There is not a GI soldier in the Fourth division but will feel his loss severely, and that goes for the officers and commander, too"

The general suffered a heart attack at 11 15 p m and called to Lt Marcus O. Stevenson, his aide. The aide summoned a physician, but Roosevelt was beyond medical help and died a half hour later.

Before his death Roosevelt had

YANKS KNIFE GERMAN LINES

Capture Pastina After Overcoming Fierce Nazi Resistance.

By The Associated Press

ROME, July 14 — American troops knifed through fiercely defended German lines yesterday, captured the village of Pastina, 13 miles east-southeast of Livorno (Leghorn) and drove on two miles through San Luce, almost due east of Livorno

The thrust, paced by the 442nd regimental combat team composed of American soldiers of Japanese origin, followed a secondary highway midway between the Italian west coast and the Era valley, and threatened to outflank enemy strongholds on both those major routes to Livorno.

Equally significant gains in hard fighting were scored by French troops on the American right wing who advanced two to 2½ miles northward from San Donato and captured San Gimignano and the neighboring village of La Casette. This brought them to within 17 miles of the Arno river at Empoli, and developed a threat to the flank of the defenders of Poggibonsi, five miles east of San Gimignano.

Today the French celebrated Bastille day by continuing their assaults and mopping up isolated pockets of resistance in newly overrun territory.

The Nazis struck back North of Pastina, the enemy launched a fu-

Swiss Report Major Crisis Brews in Germany

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 14 — Belief that a "major crisis" may be developing in Germany was expressed by a Swiss military commentator today in a broadcast over the Swiss radio

"Confidence is dwindling and nervousness is growing in the German camp," the commentator said. "Hitler's headquarters moving steadily west. Rundstedt's dismissal, a new paroxysm reached in the persecution of the Jews—these are typical elements of a major crisis"

(Field Marshal Gen. Karl Rudolf Gerd Von Rundstedt recently was replaced as commander of German forces in the west by Field Marshal Guenther Von Kluge Berlin said Von Rundstedt was in "ill health.")

Woman Kicks Panel Out of Jail Door

Repairs were in order this morning at the city prison.

Police reported that a 21-year-old Marion woman protested violently after being arrested on South Main street by patrolmen and locked in the women's cell. After only a few minutes there she kicked a panel of the door out and crawled through the opening. Then she was put in the men's cell block until the sheriff could be called and she was removed to the county jail

A double charge was filed, the first, intoxication and resisting an officer and the second was destruction of property

2 JAP ADMIRALS MEET DEATH IN SAIPAN BATTLE

Nimitz Reveals Their Deaths Day Before Island Capital Fell to Yanks.

By The Associated Press

An avenging U S Navy, unceasingly hammering Guam into shape for invasion, today grimly underscored the mortal blow struck Japan at Saipan by revealing the death of two Japanese admirals on the island lying only 1,500 miles from Tokyo

Adm Nimitz disclosed last night that Vice Adm Chuichi Nagumo commanding the Central Pacific area, met death on embattled Saipan July 7, one day before the Marianas capital island toppled With him died a Rear Adm. Yano, otherwise unidentified

Far southward on New Guinea thousands of trapped enemy troops threw themselves against encircling Allied forces near Aitape Many of the 45,000 men trying to break free to Jap-held Dutch New Guinea were slain in attacks preliminary to a full-scale battle Their fate seemed as sure as that of Admiral Nagumo's but American lives were in the balance, too

Under Attack 9 Days

Guam, largest and most southerly of the Marianas, quivered under at least nine straight days of aerial blasting plus four days of warship shelling through Tuesday Tokyo radio said new attacks were made Thursday by aircraft and warships, including a battleship Gun positions, blockhouses and warehouses were targets

The pattern of bombardment precisely followed the technique of the Gilbert and Marshall islands invasion. Guam, whose mountains offer the same rugged defense possibilities as Saipan, was wrested from U. S. control Dec 13, 1941

Admiral Nagumo led the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor 31 months ago and he commanded the carrier fleet blown out of the water at Midway July 3-6, 1942 His end, perhaps through hara-kiri, illuminated Saipan as a Japanese Pearl Harbor, comparable to Oahu not only in geography but as the hinge of Japan's inner ocean defense

"It is now clear," said Admiral Nimitz, "that Saipan island was built up by the Japanese as the principal fortress guarding the southern approaches to Japan  The island lent itself well to defense, and elaborate fortifications manned by picked Japanese troops testified to the importance which the enemy attached to the island The seizure of Saipan constitutes a major breach in the Japanese line of inner defenses"

Closer to Japan

Saipan is a thousand miles closer to Japan than Pearl Harbor is to California.

Troops mopping up the island also captured Maniagassa island, lying in Saipan's important Tanapag harbor They buried 16,000 Japanese and had many more to inter More prisoners were taken.

Scarred Hengyang still held out against Japanese trying to remount their siege of the vital Chinese rail city. Bombs and artillery opened the new attack Wednesday while U. S airmen slashed at the extended enemy supply lines. The Chinese still held a 160-mile gap in the Hankow-Canton railway. Tokyo radio said its planes destroyed 89 planes in a raid on a U. S. base at Kweilin 180 miles from Hengyang There was no confirmation.

WLB CENTER OF WAGE CRISIS

Two Disputes Grow Critical as Result of Dissatisfaction Over Rulings.

By The Associated Press

The war labor board today was the center of attention involving two major labor disputes over wages

One decision of the WLB caused a work stoppage of more than 6,000 war workers in 10 Chicago and Joliet, Ill, can manufacturing plants, while a board official's report placed a threat of a strike vote over the nation's glass plants employing some 35,000 AFL union members.

Employes in the can manufacturing plants engaged 100 per cent in war work, left their jobs yesterday in protest against the sixth regional war labor board's decision granting them only a portion of their wage demands.

Canning Industry Hit

The work stoppage was described by Gordon H Kellogg, vice president of the American Can Co, as endangering the highly perishable pea and cherry packs this season About 5,000 of the 6,300 who quit work left seven of the company's Chicago area plants. Other employes, members of the CIO United Steelworkers, halted work in three of the Continental Can Co plants in Chicago

Edgar L Warren, regional chairman of the WLB, said he had urged CIO officials to demand the employes return to work immediately to stop interruption in war production Harry Harper, union subdistrict director, said the national union had not authorized the work stoppage, and said he would recommend that the employes return to work pending ac-

Marion Soldier Dies of Wounds

PFC. WILLIAM ZIEG

Pfc. William Zieg, 22, died of wounds sustained in battle in New Guinea, June 26, a recent telegram from the war department notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zieg of 471 East Center street. Pfc. Zieg entered service in August, 1942. He left for overseas in July, 1942, and for two months was stationed in Hawaii. Since then he had been in New Guinea. His family last heard from him when they received a Mother's Day greeting, a week following Mother's Day of this year Pfc. Zieg attended Harding High school and prior to entering service was employed by the Erie railroad in the construction crew.

Trees on Game Refuge Burned

"Malice or Carelessness" Is Blamed for Loss of 1,200 in Area Near Marion.

More than 1,200 trees were destroyed by fire on the Hoch State Game Refuge west of Marion in Big Island township this week. O H Neimeyer of Prospect, deputy state game protector reported today The blaze was started through "either malice or carelessness," the game warden believes

A number of persons called the deputy about the fire but the blaze had burned itself out before he reached the scene

The trees, planted two years ago by the state division of conservation, included hickory, walnut, red and white pine, red and white oak, red cedar, papaw, butternut, redbud, beech, flowering crab and black haw All were growing nicely, the warden said.

This week's fire was the second on the refuge farm this year, the first being discovered before much damage had been done The refuge includes nearly 800 acres on the farm of Mr and Mrs Fred Hoch, who have granted the state a 99-year lease on the premises to be used as a game refuge

"No doubt this fire destroyed a lot of wildlife and their nests," Mr Neimeyer said Citing the fire as a major menace to conservation of not only wildlife but the propagation of trees in the county, he warned that persons should exercise more care in discarding matches or cigarets along the highways.

ALL CANNED MEAT PRICES TO BE CUT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14 The office of price administration announced today that the cost of all canned meat would be reduced, effective Aug 1, by approximately 10 per cent of the value of the raw meat included in such products

Consumers will benefit by the new regulation, OPA pointed out Inasmuch as retail prices are fixed on a percentage mark-up over net cost

The reductions made in the prices of canned meat follow the decrease of about 10 per cent which OPA previously made in other meat costs The new regulation on canned meat establishes flat wholesale prices instead of the "freeze" previously in effect

The new prices established for semi-sterile canned pork products at wholesale, per hundredweight, including packaging costs

Canned whole ham $44.50, Polish style $42, spiced luncheon meats, three pound size $34.30, six pound size, $33 spiced ham, three pound size $36 six pound size $34.50; pressed ham, all sizes, $36, pressed pork, all sizes, $34.50

OPA specified a zone allowance, to cover freight and delivery costs, based on shipping expenses from the point of manufacture to the buyer's place of business This cost may be added to the base wholesale price

The zone allowances

Zone 1—Consisting of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin, 48 cents for carload delivery and 72 cents for less-than-carload delivery

HINT BATTLE OVER WALLACE

Scrap for Vice Presidency Is Forecast at Democratic Convention.

By The Associated Press

Predictions by Democratic leaders that "the boys will have a little fun" in choosing a vice presidential candidate and that "it's not going to be a cut and dried convention" pointed today to a lively time at next week's Chicago gathering

These forecasts, the first by Gov. Robert S Kerr of Oklahoma, the convention keynoter, and the second by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, came as politicians still awaited the expected pat on the back from the White House for Henry A Wallace, who wants to be President Roosevelt's running mate again

With time running out fast—the convention is to meet Wednesday and to ballot for the vice presidential nomination one week from today there were these other developments

(1) Henry Ward, associate editor of the Paducah, Ky, Sun-Democrat and a close friend of Sen Alben Barkley, said Barkley has approved a plan for his name to be presented for the job Wallace now holds and to be kept in nomination until a candidate is named

(2) The CIO Political Action Committee emerged at Washington into the National Citizens Political Action committee, out to work for the reelection of a Roosevelt-Wallace ticket and for the election of a "progressive congress"

Chairman Sidney Hillman and President Philip Murray of the CIO said they are committed to Wallace "and we have no second choice" Hillman called Governor Thomas E Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, "the spokesman for (Herbert) Hoover"

(3) Dewey declared in an Albany speech, "one of the big tasks of the next few years will be to bring government closer to the people and to bring the people closer to the practice of self-government" And, he said, "that we shall succeed in restoring govern-

GERMANS LOSE 13,000 MEN IN FALL OF CITY

Russians Advance Carries to Within 28 Miles of Kaunas.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW July 14—The Russian army pushed on today from captured Wilno where the Germans lost 13,000 dead and prisoners, and edged to within 28 miles of Kaunas

(Germans have evacuated Pinsk in the western Pripyat marshes, 100 miles from Brest Litovsk the German radio said The town is on the railroad from Luninets to Warsaw and has been outflanked several days

(The German communique also announced a withdrawal in the old Polish sector west of Luck, suggesting a widening of the front below Kowel Luck lies 110 miles south southwest of Pinsk, 210 miles southeast of Warsaw and 55 miles east of the Bug river

(The communique asserted the trapped Wilno garrison had fought its way out of the city of 207,750. Marshal Stalin announced the capture of Wilno last night, saying 8,000 Germans had been killed and 5,000 others herded eastward toward prison cages)

Other Red army units were 21 miles from the strategic railway through Kaunas to Riga, the Latvian seaport capital, and to Tallinn in Estonia, front dispatches said

Gen Ivan Cherniakhovsky's cavalry and tanks were 50 miles from Eydtkuhnen, a border city in East Prussia. Farther south in the Grodno region the Russians were 20 miles from the Suwalki triangle of East Prussia

Cherniakhovsky's left flank moved up within 26 miles of Grodno, while to his south Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's units moved rapidly through the Brest Litovsk province and reached places 60 miles from the city on the western Bug river, one of the few natural barriers before Warsaw

Close In On Pinsk

The Red army was closing two huge arms around Pinsk. The city appeared doomed and its inhabitants already could hear Soviet artillery.

On the middle Baltic front the Baltic army groups of Generals Andrei I. Yeremenko and Ivan Bagramian made steady progress toward Daugavpils and Riga Bagramian's left flank has almost connected with Cherniakhovsky's fighters between Daugavpils and Wilno This appeared to be the objective for a united push through the center of the Baltics toward Memel and the Baltic sea

(Finns were warned in a domestic broadcast that their country soon might be outflanked by a complete collapse of German resistance on the Baltic front, where the situation was described as "most critical")

Red Front Broadened

At the top of the Baltic front, Yeremenko has broadened his front to over 100 miles. On the right flank he was approaching the Latvian border between Opochka and Poskov in an advance west of Novorzhev.

Red army tanks, cavalry and infantry surged closer to east Prussia despite a general stiffening of German resistance and hurried efforts by the Nazis to stem the Russian offensive by throwing large numbers of reserve into several sectors

Field dispatches said that in no area were the Nazis holding up the Russian advance, though in many places the Red army forces were farther from their bases than the Germans.

Perfect flying weather gave new impetus to the Soviet air offensive, and Russian ground operations progressed under tremendous cover by every type of fighting plane

Nazis Lose 13,000

For story of the continued Red army successes as told by the late Moscow communique

More than 8,000 Germans were

Soldier Overseas Discovers Casting He Made in Marion

Pvt. Frank Pryor, who is with an engineer regiment in England, recently saw a casting on a Marion shovel that he completed the drilling on when was employed at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. plant.

In a letter to his mother, Mrs. Bertha Pryor of 429 Davids street, he says: "The reason I knew it was mine, you remember we worked piece-work at the shovel company.

"Well, everybody had a mark they put on their castings so they could identify them from their buddies' working on another shift. As it was I used my initials to mark mine with. I just thought when I saw the machine, prechance there is a part on it I helped make. After looking for a while I found this casting with the initials 'F. P.' on it. I had turned out several of that particular type but little did I know I would ever meet one in some far off part of the world. I don't suppose there are many fellows in the service who can look at some war material from their home town and say that they made it."

made plans to return to the battle front today.

"He told me we would get an early start," said Lieut. Stevenson, who had been with him ever since Roosevelt received his star in December, 1942.

Lieut. Stevenson said Roosevelt had been particularly happy because the ordnance boys had fixed up the captured German truck with lights, a bed and a reading light by which he could scan works of Shakespeare whom he loved to quote by heart to his fellow officers.

Roosevelt stormed ashore at Oran and Gela with the First Division Infantry but Gen. Barton said he felt that "while he still loved the First Division I feel that he went out as a Fourth Division man.

"There is one unit which feels that Gen. Roosevelt is their own. Refusing the normal role of his position to come in with later supporting waves, Gen. Roosevelt hit the beach with this company at H-Hour in the first assault boats and helped them fight their way inland."

He had taken part in every action, including Cherbourg.

The general suffered a heart attack at 11:15 last night and called to Stevenson before he became unconscious.

Roosevelt made such a record as governor of Puerto Rico in 1929 that President Hoover appointed him governor-general of the Philippines in 1932. After four years in the Philippines he returned to private life.

In Tunisia he established a reputation for having a clinical knowledge of his officers and for knowing most of the enlisted men in his outfit by name.

He was born on Sept. 13, 1887, at his father's famous home "Sagamore Hill," Oyster Bay, Long Island, New York. When he was a youngster his father frequently took him on sailing, fishing and hunting trips.

He went to Groton School and then to Harvard, where he was graduated in 1908.

Early in life he once said he felt he was handicapped because he was the son of a famous father. He determined to make his own way in the world and succeeded.

Neither he nor his wife inherited any money. He started "from scratch," as he once put it. To his close friends he confided that he was proud because he had brought up his family on his own earnings.

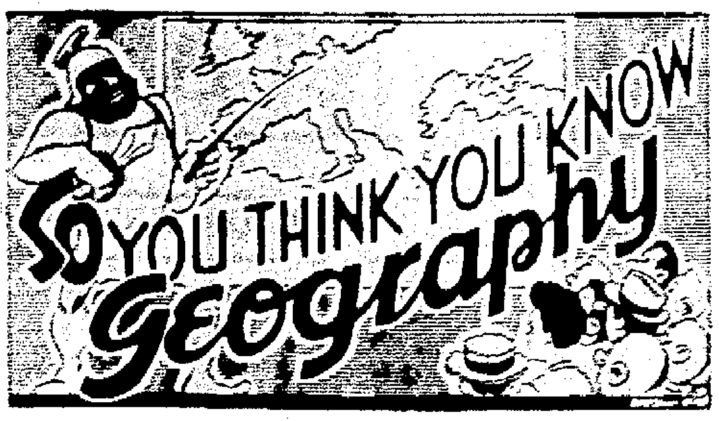
He did inherit some of President Theodore Roosevelt's traits—in mannerisms, expressions, aggressiveness and patriotism.

In President Harding's administration he became assistant Secretary of the Navy and reorganized the country's navy yards.

After retiring from political life he was Chairman of the board of the American Express company for a time and later became vice president of the publishing house of Doubleday, Doran & Co. of New York.

His survivors include his widow, Mrs. Eleanor Alexander Roosevelt; three sons, Lt. Theodore III, U. S. N. R., Lt. Cornelius Van Schaack, U. S. N. R., and Quentin; and a daughter, Mrs. William McMillan, of Baltimore.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt; two sisters, Mrs. Richard Derby of Oyster Bay, and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth of Washington, and his brother, Lieut. Col. Archibald Roosevelt.



SO YOU THINK YOU KNOW Geography

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, I've had a lot of calls for that book you took out last week...'Tell the Boys Back Home'. How did you like it?"

"Fine, Sarah, fine...it's just the kind of book I like to get hold of...I enjoyed every word of it. Wish I could have been along with the author myself....actually living with the men right on the fighting fronts. He got mighty close to them and they certainly opened up their minds and their hearts to him."

"There were lots of new things in the book I hadn't seen in any other reports from front-line writers. But there was one question the men asked the author that I have seen time and time again in these stories. That was 'Are you going to put prohibition over on us soldiers again...and without getting our vote?'"

"I noticed that, too, Judge, and I think the least we can do for those fighting men who are doing so much for us is to respect their wishes on that subject."

Rough Going

Pedestrians who hit that stretch of sidewalk on East Center street filled with crushed stone until it can be repaired properly, register all sorts of emotion. Mothers wheeling baby carriages or pushing strollers get bogged down and women wearing high heels have to step twice in one spot before they get a foothold. Men just plow through.

Early Education

Youngsters are the very best mimics and it doesn't take more than one watching to learn. Recently a young Marion man of about three years was calling his mother's attention to his actions. He had planked himself in the center of a gravel drive, picked up a smooth flat stone and was very carefully rubbing it over first one leg and then the other, paying particular attention to the spots hardest to reach. After working for a few minutes he looked up and said, "Just a minute mommy and I'll have my stockings on!"

Bus Rider's Musings

People get quite curious when they meet the same people day after day on a bus and one wonders where they work, what time they have to be there, etc. Somehow you sort of get to looking for them on the same corner each morning and if they aren't there the thought occurs whether they might have caught a ride, or if they overslept.

Easily Answered

Most of the questions asked of postal employes concern shipping rates and letter postage but one Marion clerk remembers a number of years ago when a woman called with the statement that she wanted to settle an argument. She asked if she paid shipping rates on herself could she ride in the baggage car. Before too much thought the clerk answered hastily, "Sorry, ma'am, but the only livestock carried in the baggage car are baby chicks and baby alligators."

FORMER OHIOAN NEW G.O.P. FINANCE CHIEF

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 14—Herbert Brownell Jr., Republican national chairman, announced yesterday the appointment of James S. Kemper, 57-year-old Chicago insurance executive, formerly of Van Wert, O., as chairman of the Republican national finance committee.

Kemper, who was present at the press conference at which Brownell announced the appointment, said that a tentative draft for the presidential campaign had not yet been drafted, but his object was "a balanced budget come hell or high water."

"We won't spend any money we don't raise and we won't raise any money we don't need," Kemper said.

Kemper, a former president of the United States Chamber of Commerce and a member of numerous post-war planning commissions, said that "most of our planning will be of little importance if we don't elect the Dewey-Bricker ticket."

"Businessmen are interested in an intelligent, aggressive and economic administration," Kemper said. "I think that goes for the women, too. Mounting federal deficits are a mortgage on savings."

Kemper, who is president of the Kemper Affiliated Insurance Companies and the Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company, will take a leave of absence from his business without pay, Brownell said, and will spend his whole time as finance chairman.

Kemper conferred with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the party's presidential nominee, in Albany Monday. Tuesday, Kemper conferred in Boston with Sen. Sinclair Weeks, retiring treasurer of the national committee, and also with Russell Sterns, chairman of the finance committee of Massachusetts. Today Brownell and Kemper will confer with the finance chairman of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Kemper said he would have headquarters in New York, Chicago, and San Francisco.

Candy Booby Trap Maims Allied Troops

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14—The army said yesterday it had received a report that the Germans were using a new and diabolical booby trap—candy with a piece of thermite implanted in its center. When eaten, the candy melts away and the thermite flames up in the throat and mouth.

Two experts in booby trap detection told of the device during a demonstration of weapons and mines at acting Secretary of War Patterson's news conference.

The Germans also are using the Yankee desire for cleanliness in devising other traps, the experts disclosed. A liquid soap dispenser is filled with sulphuric acid, or similar material, to burn the hands when tipped up. Another gadget is an innocent looking cake of soap which can be used for some time and then, when the outer coating is worn away, detonates an explosive to blow off the hands.

GIANT NEW SOHIO 100-OCTANE PLANT DEDICATED!
Supplies millions more gallons of vitally-needed fuel for our Air Forces
Tomorrow at 3:30 P.M. Sohio dedicates its giant new 100-Octane refinery in Cleveland—and Ohio takes another great stride forward in vital war production.
Every day the output of this refinery alone makes possible 1500 fighter plane sorties over the Channel to the invasion front!
Unprecedented Need for Combat Fuel
The war is in its most critical stage. The Allied air armada is on a round-the-clock schedule of relentless attack. Requirements for aviation fuel have grown to a point almost beyond calculation. And we are grateful that the new Sohio refinery is helping to meet this most serious need.
Speaking for Sohio and Sohio workers, there will be no let-up in 100-Octane production.
Built at Sohio's Own Expense
The new plant adds to our already large production of aviation fuel components: EX-TANES, coming from all of Sohio's refineries. Sohio's aviation gasoline program—including the $9,000,000 for the new Cleveland refinery—has been carried through without government subsidy.
When Peace Comes—
When peace comes again, these advanced refining facilities and the experience gained in making super fighting fuels will bring Ohioans the finest Sohio gasolines ever made.

Harsh Punishment
Proposed for Gestapo

LONDON, July 14—Lord Vansittart, exponent of harsh dealing with the Germans, demanded in the house of lords yesterday that 50,000 members of the Gestapo (secret police) be imprisoned after the war until the allies decide which of them should be executed and which deported to some destination "as Devil's Island."

The former permanent under-secretary of the foreign office estimated there are 200,000 members of the gestapo. He said the allies should take a fourth of them as "the first installment."

Lord Vansittart's remark was made during debate on the reported killing of 50 British airmen at a German prison Stalaglust [illegible] last March. This, he called "cold-blooded butchery" by the gestapo. He said his plan for wholesale imprisonment of the gestapo was "to provide safeguard against further atrocities."

Widespread Skepticism of Russia's Post-War Intentions Found in Poll

By GEORGE GALLUP
[illegible] American Institute of Public Opinion

[illegible]ETON, N. J., July 14— [illegible] sentiment favorable to [illegible] increased as compared [illegible] years ago, there is still widespread questioning [illegible] the country as to the intentions of the Soviet [illegible]

[illegible] survey by the Institute [illegible] that whereas the [illegible] opinion is that Russia [illegible] trusted to cooperate with [illegible] the war, nevertheless [illegible] the country either [illegible] definitely cannot be [illegible] not sure about it. [illegible] skepticism represents a [illegible] Washington will [illegible] reckon with in our dealings with Russia after the war. [illegible] the doubts concerning [illegible] intentions are justifiable or not, their very existence poses a problem for realistic statesmanship.

The trend of sentiment toward the Soviets has been measured by the Institute in five surveys on the following question:

"Do you think Russia can be trusted to cooperate with us when the war is over?"

	Yes	No	Undec.
March, 1942	39%	39%	22%
Feb., 1943	46	29	25
April, 1943	44	34	22
Nov., 1943	47	27	26
TODAY	47	36	17

The lack of agreement about Russia's post-war intentions is one main reason why American opinion is sharply divided on the idea of a permanent military alliance with Moscow similar to the proposed American alliance with England.

When opinion was tested on a Russian alliance last autumn, it was found that 30 per cent favored it, while 37 per cent opposed, and 24 per cent expressed no opinion. By contrast, an alliance with England after this war was favored by 61 per cent, and with China by 56 per cent.

Education A Factor

There are no marked differences of opinion on Russia by geographical sections. Although the East Central states—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan—show the lowest number believing Russia can be trusted, the percentage is only three points below the national average.

Nor are there any sharp differences by age groups. The attitude of the young voters is about the same as that of older people.

The most important difference is found by education level. Anti-Russian sentiment is concentrated mainly in that section of the adult population which has had only grammar school education or no schooling. College graduates, on the other hand, show the highest inclination to trust Russia's intentions.

The attitudes by degree of education are as follows:

CAN RUSSIA BE TRUSTED?

	Yes	No	Undec.
Those with Coll. Training	58%	32%	10%
High School graduates only	51	33	16
Grammar School only or No Schooling	41	39	20

Boys and Girls Vie in Kirkpatrick 4-H Pest Hunt Contest

Results of a pest hunt contest between boys and girls of Kirkpatrick 4-H clubs were announced at a recent meeting of the boys' group, the Kirkpatrick Live Wires club in the home of Bob Boyd. In the three weeks competition the boys won by a total of 10,145 points against the total of the girls' club, the Kirkpatrick Victory Farmerettes, which was 10,355 points. The largest number of points on each side was obtained for sparrows. A total of 845 sparrows were caught. The boys captured 833 pests while the girls caught 675, a total of 1,508 including besides sparrows the following, pigeons, ground hogs, starlings, rats, mice, crows, hawks and ground moles. The Farmerettes as losers, are to entertain for the Live Wires Monday night. The next meeting of the boys' club will be held in the home of Warren Beers.

"Believe me, it's smart to steer clear of 'START-UP' DAMAGE"

Stop around, any morning . . . see how jammed our shop is . . . how few mechanics are left . . . how many cars we have to turn away . . . and, mister, you won't put a mile of wear on your motor that you don't have to.

One thing sure—you won't want to keep on putting as much wear on it in one minute after you start up as you would in up to 200 miles of normal, warmed-up driving. That's what you're doing—automotive experts say—if you're using ordinary oil that drains down from or dries off of pistons and cylinder walls when your car stands idle.

If you want to steer clear of trouble, expense, delays, and keep your car in service . . . better switch to the oil that gives "start-up" protection . . . Marathon V.E.P. Oil.

Save up to 200 miles of wear every time you start up . . .

CHANGE TO V.E.P. ALLOYED-OIL

It's the new, patented alloyed oil which scientific tests and millions of miles of road travel prove will make your motor last 50% longer than it would with ordinary oil . . . put trouble 50% farther away. For V.E.P. has a "magnetic-like" action which makes it cling to pistons and cylinder walls for days, even weeks.

V.E.P. also rids your motor of harmful sludge, carbon, varnish . . . frees up valves and rings for more efficient operation, more miles per coupon. Don't put it off—put it in. Stop at your Marathon station, change to V.E.P., today.

When the Boys Come Home

THERE is going to be a political hue and cry, reflecting popular sentiment, for bringing the boys home from the war fronts as soon as possible. The Republican party has adopted the slogan as part of its platform and presumably the Democrats will match it.

It would [illegible] if the tag end of the slogan [illegible] How soon is as soon as possible? About 3600 members of the First marine division landed at San Diego last week. They were first to go into ground action against Japan. They fought on Guadalcanal, Tulagi, Cape Gloucester—most of them for 26 months. Meanwhile, thousands of other American men who have been away from home just as long are sweating it out in the Pacific theater with no prospect of getting home other than the feeble flicker of hope kept alive by the rotation plan.

In the Mediterranean theater it is the same. It is the same in western Europe. It is the same wherever American men are fighting the war. All of them want to come. Until the war is over, most of them can't come home—and the relatively few who do get home will not be able to stay. It would be a lot kinder in the long run if politicians would forego the temptation to talk about things they are as powerless to alter as they were in the campaign of 1940 to keep American men from being sent abroad to fight in the first place.

Double-Edged Endorsements

THE Gallup Poll's conclusion that indorsement by the CIO Political Action committee may do candidates more harm than good, on the basis of a survey in which 53 per cent of opinion was registered as more likely to vote against but only 10 per cent for an endorsed candidate, gives CIO officials something to think about. Most politicians, except in rare localities where the union labor vote is decisive, already knew about the danger of double-edged endorsements.

They are not peculiar to CIO, or to labor unions. They are peculiar to groups which for one reason or another have created popular resentment. Thus, if the Red Cross were giving endorsements, every political candidate would want one. But not every candidate would want to be endorsed by the National Association of Manufacturers, on the other hand. There was a time in American politics when a hint that a candidate was backed by Standard Oil was a kiss of death, just as today the burden the Democratic party must bear is the approval of the American Communists. Identity with any group which has aroused popular resentment is a political handicap. The Gallup poll on CIO endorsements has told politicians nothing they didn't know before, but it has told CIO officials something about their organization's status in popular opinion throughout the country.

Objectives

IT TAKES close attention to the calendar to keep the Allied drives this summer in proper perspective.

The speed with which objectives are being reached and left behind is more apparent than real. In some cases, that is true, also, of the importance of the objectives—an importance that is assigned by transitory interest, not by objective value.

Saipan, for example, represents an important gain for the military team driving westward toward Japan's inner defenses, but by hindsight it will be only another objective reached—not a major victory.

The British-Canadian victory at Caen likewise is an important development in a different campaign—and not a major victory. In that respect, it might be compared to the fall of Rome, which had been anticipated as a kind of turning point in the Italian campaign but quickly became only a milestone on the way to further hard fighting. Cherbourg, the Russian approach to East Prussia—these add to the misleading impression of victories being piled up in quick succession.

Gen. Eisenhower's reminder that long and bitter fighting must be done before victory is especially well timed. The optimistic view that the war in Europe may be over by the end of the year must be tempered with the fact that half the year already is over. Further optimistic views about Japan must be tempered with the fact that the Japanese homeland has been reached only tentatively with the long arm of air power and is still more than a thousand miles away from the first contact with the knockout punch of land power. Things are going well, but they need to go even better to settle anything in 1944.

So They Say—

The one thing we dare not tolerate is intolerance.—Dr. Everett Case, president Colgate university.

Can you wonder that we are disillusioned? We know we have been deserted—Nazi prisoner captured during invasion.

I believe that at war's end America will be able to maintain and even raise the standard of living for all its people if it works out different relationships between federal regulations and private initiative.—Dr. Leonard Carmichael, president Tufts college.

Today and Tomorrow

Program Mapped at Bretton Woods Understood by Few If Any Persons.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT HAS been impossible for the general public to obtain any idea of what the Bretton Woods conference is about. Though it is concerned with questions which affect men's lives deeply, the language of monetary theory is understood by very few men in any country. It is a little as if a conference to examine arrangements for buying and selling goods across frontiers, for relating international trade to domestic employment and social welfare were to conduct its proceedings in the Sanskrit language.

In addition to approaching matters of vital importance in a form which is not only unintelligible to most but riddled with popular superstitions connected with money the conference has to compete for attention with the invasion of Europe and with the presidential election.

Moreover, however wise it may have been to let the experts come together and think without distraction in so pleasant and so remote a place as Bretton Woods, the disadvantage has been that they have been isolated in an ivory tower from the men who have to understand their work if they are to explain it.

We must hope, therefore, that this conference will be regarded as one in a continuing series, and that somehow arrangements will be made to continue the discussions and negotiations through permanent delegations working in some accessible place like Washington or New York.

For the real problems cannot be made clear through a few press conferences, even such well-conducted ones as there have been at Bretton Woods. The problems involve a whole complex of national policies in many countries and they can be reported and elucidated only gradually after prolonged contact in which the experts learn to speak English and the laymen pick up at least a smattering of monetary Sanskrit.

THAT the conclusions reached at Bretton Woods will be tentative is recognized by all. But they will at least begin to focus the issues and to crystallize the discussion which will then run on for a considerable time before the matter is presented to Congress. For this reason the responsible and expert critics of the plan that will be proposed ought to separate themselves sharply from those who are just blindly opposed to these plans and in fact, to any plans.

For the purpose of study and eventual solution, it is infinitely better to have a specific plan, however imperfect, to discuss, than to have everyone advocating his own theories and no one listening to anyone else's.

Such a temperate and open-minded and, in spirit, scientific approach will be all the easier if we clear our minds of the notion that the conference is discussing a raid on the United States Treasury, and that we must rush frantically to stop it.

Senator Taft, whose record in understanding what is going to happen is not distinguished, has just rung the burglar alarm. He sees the proposed monetary fund and reconstruction bank as a subtle device by which "our money is, in fact, to be loaned away by a board in which we have only a minority interest."

That is a way of stating the matter but it obfuscates the real issues, for as Senator Taft knows and admits, the United States is going to have to loan money abroad. The Republican platform recognizes this necessity. What he argues for are direct American loans to foreign nations in which the United States, as the lender, fixes the terms for each of the borrowers.

WHEN I say that he has obfuscated the issue, I mean that he is making the unproved and very dubious assumption that the other great financial powers would accept loans of this kind. That may at first sound like a startling thing to say but I believe that this is very nearly the essence of the whole problem, and that until our people understand its tremendous significance, they will be talking about unrealities.

To Senator Taft it is probably unthinkable that the creditors should not be in a position to call the turn on the debtors. But in fact this is more nearly the true position of affairs than the American experts have cared to disclose or than foreign governments have wished to say bluntly. For in a world where there is only one great power capable of extending large international credits, the creditor-borrower relationship of normal private affairs does not prevail. The other great financial powers are in a position to have a very great deal to say about the terms on which they will accept credit. That is the fact which we have soberly to comprehend.

Why are they in a position to have a lot to say? Because if the great creditor does not offer terms which fit their internal needs and their sense of national dignity they have an alternative to the system of general international trading which this country desires. The alternative is government-controlled trading on a bilateral or barter basis.

It is not a good alternative, and the world will be a poorer and more troubled place if it is adopted. But let us have no illusions whatever. The other great financial powers will surely think this poor alternative the lesser of two evils if they cannot get credit to restore general trade except on terms which they regard as dictation of their domestic policy by the United States and as humiliating.

This may be deplorable, but it is one of the facts of life, and the sooner we face it the better.

Nazis Dislike Lightnings

German Fliers Dodge Battles with Swift U. S. Fighters.

By WILLIAM W. WADE
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

U. S. FIGHTER STATION, England, July 14—The main reason the P-38 Lightning fighter has not yet made a top-scoring ace in the European theater of operations—and this comes from the boys who fly the ship—is that the Lightning bears a large Star Spangled Banner on each of its two engines and mounts a screaming American eagle between.

Literally the Lightning may only carry the normal white star which identifies all American planes, but figuratively this long-range fighter might just as well be decorated by flags and heralded into Germany with sky-filling trumpet blasts of "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

The Martian-looking Lightning, with its twin engines and twin tail booms, is recognizable as an American fighter the minute it is seen. And the Luftwaffe seldom is willing or eager to tangle with any U. S. fighters.

The Germans, desperately anxious to conserve their fighter strength, have sent up Focke-Wulfs and Messerschmitts to defend the cities of the Reich only under the most favorable conditions. When they do come up, the Nazi fighters shy away from the U. S. escort and try to catch the bombers with the least protection.

The Germans can spot a Lightning escort not a mile away but 25 miles or more away. An escort of P-47s and P-51s, Thunderbolts and Mustangs, is a lot trickier to pick out, for both of these ships are just single-engined fighters of uncertain nationality in the distance.

Others Hard to Spot

Even at close range, Thunderbolts and Mustangs easily are confused with the two best German fighters, the FW-190's and the ME-109's. The Thunderbolt with its radial engine looks a lot like a Focke-Wulf, another radial engine fighter, in the air. The Mustang follows closely on the lines of the ME-109.

But the P-38 is easily picked out by friend and foe alike and Lightning pilots complain that their all-American silhouette cheats them of many dog fights.

The boys in this fighter group, from the commanding officer, Col. Roy W. Osborn, of San Antonio, Tex., are unqualifiedly enthusiastic about their ship.

They claim that the twin-engined P-38 can do just about anything a single-engined fighter can and do most of them better. When they have tangled with the Luftwaffe, the boys haven't done badly, not badly at all. Its score of kills is mounting rapidly.

Major John H. Lowell of Denver, Col., has knocked off six enemy planes in just over 100 combat hours and he is high scorer among Colonel Osborn's boys.

Major Lowell has the usual fervor for the ship he flies but he has added reason to praise the Lightning. Recently he streaked home from Friedrickshaven on the Swiss border, one of the deepest penetrations Allied fighters have ever made into Germany, on one engine.

"With a single-engine plane," Major Lowell said, "I would have been a dead duck."

Backs Up Theory

To back up the theory that the German air force is unwilling to battle P-38s, Major R. D. Neece of El Paso, Tex., tells a story about 60 Nazi interceptors which shied away from 11 of his ships.

He was leading his squadron on a mission over Hanover when he spotted a formation of Liberators trailing along without escort. He called his boys over the radio to come back and protect the bombers.

"We came back south of the formation and just then the Germans attacked from the north. We were outnumbered about five to one and were expecting a big, hairy dogfight. The Jerries made one pass at the bombers, did some damage and then saw us," the major said.

"Almost immediately they all hit the deck, diving down to avoid a fight."

Although the pilots at this station are rueful about the Nazi reluctance to fight, they don't attribute it to any lack of guts on the part of the Luftwaffe.

"They can't replace their losses and they know we can," Neece stated. "They have to save what they can."

Strange Bivouac

CAMP VAN DORN, Miss.—Civilian girl employes of this post, seeking escape from the stifling heat, fled their dormitory to camp outside the building, bringing bedrolls and blankets with them. A startled M.P. discovered them and conducted an hourly check of the bivouac area thereafter to see if all were well.

Possibility of eliminating four railroad grade crossings in northeast Marion was seen by city officials as steps were being taken toward preparing an FERA project for that purpose. Support of Congressman Brooks Fletcher and Senator Robert J. Bulkley for the city's municipal water plant application was asked in letters sent out by City Clerk J. Aultman Raub, acting under instructions of city council.

Order Canceled

By The Associated Press

HARPER, Kas.—A businessman wanted some rubber bands and went to his local dealer. The dealer had none but forwarded the request to a stationary supply house. Back came this letter:

"You can secure rubber bands by doing the following: Write to the WPB director's office, Washington. State quantity of bands you require and why you need them.

"If request is approved they will send you a form showing approval and assigning a preference rating on the individual order. In turn you send this information to us and we will forward it to the manufacturer who will——"

At this point the customer canceled his order for a dime's worth of rubber bands.

"Cry-Babies" Decried

BOULDER, Colo. — The National Association of College Women in Physical Education has decided something must be done to correct what they call the "cry-baby attitude" of modern girls.

Instead of fighting problems through, the adolescent girl often is moody and too frequently resorts to tears, the educators said. They blamed the one-child family, lack of home discipline and the small apartment life in larger cities as causes of the situation.

Probable Campaign Plan

Not Much Speed Likely Till Home Stretch Is Reached.

WASHINGTON—In the race for President, the horses won't start running until they hit the home stretch.

In spite of the fact that the GOP nominee, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, was holding almost daily press conferences in Albany, politicians here couldn't conceive that he would launch an aggressive, nation-wide speaking tour such as Wendell L. Willkie conducted four years ago.

The reasons are:

1. The results of the November election will depend much on the course of events in the war and at home between now and then. It would be political folly for Dewey to climb out on any limbs that might be sawed off by the rapidly changing fortunes of war.

2. Dewey's primary objective is to cement the Republican party into a solid phalanx. He can't do this merely by tossing blockbusters at the opposition. In Chicago there was a period when the Dewey board of strategy was worried. The "conservatives" in the party, it appeared, had delegate favor, if not delegate votes. Remembering, 1940, they decided that something had to be done. That something was to bring Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio into the Dewey camp as vice presidential nominee.

The next step must be to heal the breach between the "conservative" and "liberal" wings. Dewey already has started conferences with down-east G.O.P. candidates for the House of Representatives. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan is going to visit him. If he can consolidate his support with such conservatives as Vandenberg, Sen. Robert A. Taft, former President Herbert Hoover and such liberals as Willkie, to mention the extreme, there will be time then to worry about cutting into the Democratic ranks with a vigorous speaking campaign.

3. The fact that we are in the midst of a bloody global war militates against any political fandangos this year. For either Dewey or President Roosevelt to take the stump almost certainly would result in repercussions from the voting public. Every politician I have talked to feels that the only way the campaigns can be conducted this year will be quiet, dignified "front porch" campaigns, with perhaps a whirlwind finish when the issues are clear and the last chips are down.

As for President Roosevelt, he occupies a unique situation! He speaks not only as a candidate but as President of the United States.

In Sicily, U. S. troops under Gen. Patton strike for Caltagirone, while Gen. Montgomerys men reach the Catania Plain on the east; more than 12,000 prisoners are taken; U. S. troops also capture Comiso and Ponte Olivo.

British RAF causes much damage to rail center at Aachen, Germany, night of July 13; today, Flying Fortresses join RAF in attack on German airfields in France; 51 enemy fighters destroyed, 45 by Fortresses alone.

Russian troops, for first time in more than a week, began to counter-attack; recapture several villages.

In Bastille Day address at Algiers, Gen. Charles de Gaulle declares that the French army cannot be separated from the French people; calls for a Fourth Republic, free of privilege and exploitation.

The Once Over

Private Papers of Private Purkey

DEAR HARRIET—

Well here I am back in Italy. They keep switching me around whenever them Nazis make a stiff stand. I am surprised how much more of Italy we got since I was last there. In fact I went to Rome thinking we was still around there somewheres, but we been out of Rome so long that the Romans almost forgot we was there.

I took a run to the Colesseum on account I did not get much time to look at it when [illegible] took the city. It is not much. I could not find no lions and when I asked a guide to show me a gladiator he just give me a dumb look. The place has been allowed to go all to pieces [illegible] I guess after Julius Caesar gave it up nobody bothered to run it. I also made a trip to the Roman Forums but they have not been kept up neither, in fact I never seen no buildings suffering from so much neglect. The Forums where Brutus stabbed Caesar and I suppose that a stabbing which got so much publicity sort of kills a place.

I ran across a lot of buddies in Rome [illegible] suffering from the cordial welcome. They got multiple bruises from wild embraces. When [illegible] Italian welcomes a army he welcomes it [illegible] They should give us medals for bravery in the face of them ovations.

Well, I got to liberate northern Italy [illegible] Sergent Mooney says we got to take Florence next. He did not say what her last name was but as soon as that is done he says we may take Venice and I hope he is not kidding on account of it is one city where they can't make me do no walking. And for once I will be in a spot where I do not have to get shook up riding in no jeeps.

It is all canals in Venice and everybody [illegible] around in gondoliers which is canoes with [illegible] necks and some velvet trimmings. That is [illegible] idea of a paradise for a G. I. with sore [illegible] It is the one spot in the war where corns don't matter.

All I am worried about is if I have to do [illegible] How does a G. I. k. p. a canal? Do I have [illegible] pick up litter underwater? It has got me bothered. Sergent Mooney says not to worry [illegible] should be amphibolus by this time and this [illegible] just a ideal amphibolus city.

He says we may go to Pisa and see the Leaning Tower of Pisa soon. That would not be no novelty to me. Every building over here [illegible] leaning since this invasion started. I would not be surprised if compared to most places the Pisa Tower looked pretty straight.

Secretary Stimson is over here and [illegible] Myron Taylor. Ghigli the tenor denies he [illegible] dead like he was reported. But it is official about Caruso.

Well, I will close now hoping everybody is well back home and that nobody is striking no more than usual.

All my love,
OSCAR

M. L. Hardout asks if we have heard of the new G.O.P. dessert de luxe: Honeydewey melon with a bricker ice cream?

The newsreel men have been to Pawling taking pictures of Gov. Dewey's farm, and as we understand it, the Governor, showing rare sense in political candidacy, refused to pose milking a cow, pitching hay or butchering a hog. He has 90 cows. But he knows very well that as the country's Number One racket buster he is best known for his work with "the bulls."

If Mr. Dewey made any pretense about being a dairyman, the Democrats were all set to open their convention with "Milkman, Keep Them Bottles Quiet."

Grind-Happy

By Truman Twill

Dear Diary: Arose when the alarm clock rang this morning, because the dream wasn't [illegible] going on with anyway. There being no one else up and about, went downstairs scantily clothed in pajama bottoms to run up breakfast. Could see lady next door in her kitchen doing likewise, except she was fully clothed. Due to high kitchen windows, she must have received wrong impression, being unable to see pajama bottoms. The temperature at 6:30 stood [illegible] too cold for that kind of a getup.

Breakfast finished, shaved and prepared [illegible] to work. Drove car to service station for first grease job in almost a year, but no harm done due to gasoline rationing. However, did not mention matter to attendant, figuring what he didn't know wouldn't hurt him. Caught bus after short wait and was pleasantly impressed with attitude of driver who said good morning to his passengers. Also pleasantly impressed with appearance of several lady passengers.

Withstood good-natured joshing of [illegible] early risers in office who wanted to know what was behind appearance ahead of schedule. Made usual discovery that half an hour in morning is worth an hour and a half tacked on to the afternoon and turned out a goodly stint of work by the time the day ordinarily begins. However, was overtaken by hunger at unseasonable [illegible] hour and felt obliged to step out early for lunch. Found service at restaurant much improved over usual noontime condition.

Formed resolution while eating to [illegible] through afternoon's chores briskly and go home early, with view to helping a lady whose husband is away at the war bring order out of chaos in the wake of furniture movers. But various things arising as afternoon wore on [illegible] tion fell by wayside and did not arrive [illegible] time to do anything before it was time to eat.

Upon offering moving services after supper, learned several others had same idea [illegible] ing passed pleasantly enough with wrestling furniture, hanging pictures, tugging at rugs [illegible] on and so forth. After everything [illegible] done, wended way homeward, took shower, retired with copy of favorite weekly [illegible] Only then remembered, with chagrin, a [illegible] promise to put in appearance at a meeting of well wishers of favorite community project, too late to furnish explanation of absence.

Listened to midnight radio report [illegible] seemed to find war progressing favorably [illegible] more than usual run of ordinary violence [illegible] disasters, including tragedy which struck circus show at Hartford. And so to sleep. [illegible] don't think these are not exciting days on the home front because they aren't. They are just the same confounded grind, day after day, week after week and month after month, but perhaps if all of us can stick it out without getting grind-happy it will help somehow to win the war.

Dinner Party for Blues

By BETSY NEWMAN

e particularly wor- that young pilot, sol- marine or coast areas, don't sit and you have time for a little party, a dinner with a few ends. They probably you and it will do you get together. Let's plan menu.

MENU

Norfolk, or Crabmeat Cocktail, Casserole Creamed Wax Beans, Tomato Salad, Apple Pie, Coffee.

Canape Norfolk

tomatoes, 6 lettuce crab flakes, Mayon- chopped red and green hard-boiled egg yolks, mato slices on lettuce crab mixed with pep- mato slices; cover with mayonnaise. Sprinkle with sieved egg yolk and garnish with slices of red and green peppers. Serves 6.

Crab Meat and Grapefruit Cocktail

3 grapefruit, ½ lb. crab meat, 1-3 c. tomato catsup, ¾ c. grapefruit juice, ½ tsp. salt, 1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce, few drops Tabasco sauce.

Cut grapefruit in halves crosswise, remove pulp and drain. Mix crab meat with grapefruit pulp, add seasonings, chill, and serve in cocktail glasses or in grapefruit skins or baskets. Serves 6. You can use shrimp in place of crab meat, if you prefer.

Casserole of Chicken

1 5-lb. fowl in pieces, 1 tsp. salt, ½ tsp. pepper, 3 tbsps. flour, ½ c. fat, 1 c. sliced onion, 1 c. sliced mushrooms, 2 c. rich milk.

Roll pieces of chicken in mixture of salt, pepper and flour. Cook in fat until slightly browned and place in casserole. Saute onions and mushrooms in drippings in saucepan until delicately browned; add milk and blend. Pour over chicken, cover casserole and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 2½ to 3 hours, or until tender. Serves 6 to 8.

Sour Cream and Apple Pie

1½ to 2 lbs. tart apples, Pastry, 1-3 c. flour, ¼ tsp. cinnamon, ¾ c. sugar, ½ c. sour cream.

Peel apples and cut lengthwise in ¼ inch pieces. Line deep 9-inch pie plate with crust, make neat edge. Arrange slices of apples overlapping each other in rows, filling pie plate. Mix together sugar, flour and cinnamon, and sift over top. Now add sour cream and bake in moderate hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 10 or 15 minutes reducing heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) to finish baking. Remove from oven when apples are tender and crust is browned.

OWI To Set Up Two Stations for Troops

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 14—To insure more adequate American broadcasting to service men in the Pacific and far east, as well as other listeners, two 200-kilowatt short wave stations are to be set up on the west coast by the office of war information. It is hoped to counter Japanese originated programs, the only broadcasts which can be received satisfactorily in parts of the vast area.

In place of the Saturday evening historical dramas, American Story, NBC this week is inserting "They Call Me Joe" for the next 12 broadcasts. The announced aim of the program is to "tell in drama the story of contributions to America made by the various national and racial groups represented among service men." Some of the shows will be made available to overseas forces by recordings.

Only 15 Americans Of One Company Survive Attack

By E. D. BALL
AP War Correspondent

WITH U. S. FORCES NORTH OF THE AY RIVER, July 12—(Delayed)—Fifteen dust-caked soldiers came straggling to the rear today along a dirt road lined with dead men.

They were all who could be accounted for out of a company of infantry which attacked one position at 8:30 a. m. yesterday.

First it was snipers, then machine-guns and finally 88's.

Theirs was no Verdun, no Marne. The place they were attacking was Vesly, just a wide place in the road.

We were in the outskirts of Vesly last night because our men fought and died bravely.

Some of the 15 gave the details:

Staff Sgt. Joss Gordon, Binghamton, N. Y.:

"We pushed off at 8:30 towards that village. First off, we ran into snipers. They killed two of our lieutenants. Then we came smack up against machine-gun emplacements. They got our captain."

Pvt. Floyd Bew, Norfolk, Va.:

"After the machine-guns they hit us with a barrage of 88's. As we withdrew, there were more 88's."

Pfc. Daniel Crist, Shelby, O.:

"They killed a lot of us, but we got our share, as many or more than they did. Our captain was standing there throwing grenades like a wildcat. They shot him through the neck and he kept on chucking pineapples."

"One of our lieutenants—he is from Georgia—got 13 holes through him when he went for a machine-gun nest in a house," said Cpl. Walker Bernardi, Bowler, Wis. "They cut him down before he got there, but he let go his grenade and the Huns quit shooting."

DEWEY FAMILY AT HOME. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, at his Pawling, N. Y., home, with Mrs. Dewey and their sons, Thomas, Jr., 11, and John Martin, 8.

Marion Aviation Cadet Weds at Ballinger, Tex.

Miss Constance Peace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Peace of Minneapolis, Minn., and Aviation Cadet George Hedge, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hedge of 183 Patten street, were united in marriage Saturday, July 1, at 9 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Agnew of Ballinger, Tex. Rev. Gary Hoffias read the single ring ceremony before a group of friends and classmates of the bridegroom. Tall baskets of pink flowering willow with sprays of crepe myrtle and ferns in graduated heights with floor candelabra holding 21 white tapers stood before the triple arched windows in the living room.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Carmen Demmer and Mrs. Troy Simpson. The candles were lighted by Aviation Cadet C. M. Biehm of Salt Lake City.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Harry Lynn, wore a dress of white crepe made with a full skirt shirred at the waistline. The halo neckline and elbow length sleeves were marked by cut-out insets of self-material. She wore a large black felt hat edged in lace in cut-out design. She carried the traditional silk covered Testament which was topped with a purple orchid, showered with narrow satin ribbon.

Mrs. Fred Vetterlein was matron of honor and was dressed in a two-piece dress of violet butcher's linen. Her corsage was of gardenias and her accessories were white. Serving the bridegroom as best man was Aviation Cadet Gordon Douglas.

A reception for the bridal party and their guests followed the ceremony. Cadet Hedge graduated from Harding High school with the class of 1940. Prior to entering the service in October, 1942, he was the assistant manager of a Woolworth store in Columbus. Cadet and Mrs. Hedge will make their home in Ballinger where he is a member of Class 44-K at Bruce Field.

PROPOSES AMERICA HELP FEED WORLD

By The Associated Press

YELLOW SPRINGS, O., July 14—Murray D. Lincoln, general manager of the Ohio Farm Bureau, last night declared the United States in the interest of peace should help feed the world.

Addressing the Antioch College Institute on [illegible] During Peace, Lincoln asserted the United States should help supply food for the world "not as Santa Claus" but "as a matter of our own interest."

Lincoln, a delegate to the United Nations food conference, said no nation [illegible] feed the world and that in order to eliminate suffering from hunger the world should be taught to feed itself.

He declared the world today is suffering from "a 19th century hang-over" and added that the United States "short-circuits its opportunities for peace with policies of national selfishness and short-sightedness."

The Farm Bureau head added that "we must cease to produce merely for profit. We shall never experience abundance by putting a price tag on it. Inadequate diets breed weak and improvident people who are economically inefficient and who are easy victims of social unrest. That is why we should be disturbed over the fact that three-fourths of the world is under-fed."

Wyandot Couple Wed in Church Rectory

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 14—Miss Dorothy Jean Hemmerly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hemmerly of Mifflin township, and Pfc. Richard L. Cornely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Legoria Cornely of Kirby, were married Tuesday evening at the rectory of the St. Mary's church in Kirby with Rev. Leo Williams reading the single ring ceremony.

Attendants were Miss Betty Cornely, sister of the bridegroom, and Virgil Best of Salem township.

The newlyweds left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. On their return Private Cornely will report to Alaska where he has been stationed for the past 18 months. Mrs. Cornely will continue to reside in Mansfield, where she is employed.

more diabolical project ever conceived in the darkest ages. nobody but Hitler backed these days of supposed en- ment one would put it as propaganda calculated to the United Nations into Probably the Nazi hopes it will have this but if it doesn't produce result—what then?

We must examine the position in the dispassionate light of reason and with reference to past events. We can't dismiss it as an empty threat. It fits perfectly with the character Hitler has displayed in his bestial massacres of helpless civilians in occupied countries and his enslavement of millions of others.

We have full proof from his past deeds that his evil heart will stop at murder and devastation. I believe he is fully capable of undertaking to pull Europe down to destruction with him with all the horrors of a blood-bath.

The thing which might prevent this madness would be the refusal of the German poeple to countenance such a bloody course. Be that as may, Adolf Hitler's threat in itself is enough to spur the United Nations to their utmost effort to smash as quickly as possible this monster and his Nazism and the Prussianism which has fostered his schemes in order to achieve the world domination that it has sought for generations. Who identifies himself with Hitler now?

Beast at Bay

This savage Hitlerian outburst is of course the snarl of the wounded beast at bay. The military broadcast makes that plain enough when it says:

"All now is at stake. The Russian flood is surging against our eastern frontier and threatens to spill over our holy German land. No wonder terror grips the heart of many of our people."

How true that is! The Red flood is indeed sweeping westward across Europe with terrific force and speed. At latest reports it was rapidly nearing the border of East Prussia—"holy German land"—breeding ground of Prussian Junkerism and militaristic aggression.

Meanwhile the allied breakers are tearing at Hitler's southern front in Italy. The sea is reaching to engulf him from the west. The skies are deluging him with a storm of destruction so terrific that his military commanders admit it's beyond their skill to cope with it.

The allies are closing in for the kill—no qusetion about that. And Hitler's horrible threat can only have the effect of hastening his end.

the counter-attack last night against Americans digging in on Monte Maggiore.

A bloody, close-quarter bayonet and hand grenade engagement drove the foe back.

Pastina was taken late yesterday after street fighting. The Americans wiped out the German garrison.

An allied spokesman said the capture of Pastina, San Luce and the nearby heights was a flanking threat to Terricciola, German fortress town in the Era valley, through which the GI's have been making a major attack toward the Arno river to flank Livorno and Pisa.

The Eighth army front was without substantial change, except in the upper Tiber valley. There the British seized three more commanding heights. Patrols punched within two and a half miles of Citta Di Castello, taking prisoners in Santa Lucia.

Farther east, Indians moved up several miles, repelling enemy counterattacks near Colle Dei Cri.

Former U. S. Senator from Kansas Dies

By The Associated Press

FAIRFAX, Va., July 14—Joseph Little Bristow, 83, former United States senator from Kansas, died early today at his home here after a three-week illness.

A former newspaper publisher, Bristow served in the senate from 1909 to 1915. He was a joint author of the 17th amendment providing for election of senators by popular vote.

Ironically, he was defeated for renomination in the first Republican primary held in Kansas after adoption of the amendment. He lost to Charles Curtis, who later became vice president.

ANKARA WATCHED FOR MOVE INTO WAR

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14—American officials watched Ankara closely today, as Anglo-American-Russian talks continued with Turkey to bring that important neutral closer to the allies.

While it seems unlikely that the Turks will join the war against Germany at this stage, concrete developments to aid the United Nations and hit Germany appear in the offing.

First step may be a severance of Turkish economic relations with the Nazis, who are getting wool, silk, oil seeds, foodstuffs and certain critical materials from Turkey.

Without fanfare, the Turks already have cut their overall trade with Germany by 50 per cent, in addition to the complete ban on chrome exports to the Nazis.

Reports from Ankara have shown a sudden increase in diplomatic activity there, and it was learned here that three-way conversations have been going on with the Turks for three weeks now.

An Ankara dispatch said German Ambassador Franz Von Papen had left, which if true could indicate Nazi alarm at the rapidity with which Turkey is heading toward the allies.

Turkey's key position of two years ago when Russia was fighting in the Caucasus and the British in North Africa, now has reversed so that abandonment of her neutrality could imperil the whole German system in the Balkans and speed the end of the war.

At present, Turkey is not getting any lend-lease from this country or Britain, and a resumption of military aid would give a tip-off as to how far the Turks decide to go.

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE, July 14 — Mrs. Blanche Ludwig, 82, of Sycamore died in the home of a son, Harry, at Napoleon today. She was ill four years. Her husband, William Ludwig, died Aug. 21, 1942.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. in Moore's funeral home at Sycamore by Rev. C. F. Brouse of the Reformed church of which she was a member. Burial will be in Pleasant View cemetery at Sycamore. Friends may call at the funeral home after tomorrow noon.

HOTEL STRIKE ENDS

AKRON, O., July 14—An eight-day strike at Akron's largest hotel, the Mayflower, ended last night when 70 employes returned to work, Charles E. Raleigh, organizer for the AFL-Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders union, reported. Raleigh said the employes walked out during a dispute between the AFL group and the CIO United Service Workers union, which sought to establish bargaining rights at the hotel.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR POLICE BALL

More Than 1,100 Tickets Sold for Saturday Night Event.

Final arrangements for the police ball were announced today and L. E. Reardon, president of the Marion County Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police estimated that more than 1,100 tickets had been sold to date.

The annual dance will be held Saturday from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. at the Hy-Way Rollerena just east of the city limits. Workmen today were installing an amplifying system to be used in addition to the amplifier furnished by the orchestra. Officials stated that since the Rollerena was open the additional equipment would be necessary to supplement the orchestra's system, which was designed for closed ballrooms.

Marion Miller and her all-girl orchestra, comprised of 10 musicians, are expected to arrive from Akron at about 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Some of the girls played here a few years ago as members of the Eleanor Krannish band.

Patrolmen Reardon said invitations have been issued to police and firemen from surrounding towns and several of the state highway patrolmen had already announced acceptance. Badges of the visiting officers will admit them.

Some tickets will be sold at the door Saturday night, but the number will be limited since response to the advance ticket sale during the past two weeks has been unusually large.

Columbus Woman In Kidnaping of Child

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 14—Michael Alessi, seven-month-old brown-eyed boy recovered here 24 hours after he disappeared from a Detroit beer parlor, played happily at juvenile center today while police held Mrs. Alice Drawdy, 21, of Columbus.

Detective Chief Leo Phillips said the woman, arrested yesterday at a small hotel where she was found with the baby, would be arraigned on a fugitive from justice warrant.

Phillips asserted Mrs. Drawdy admitted taking the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Alessi but insisted she did not know why she had done so. Alessi is a Detroit war worker.

Phillips reported the woman told of arriving in Columbus and with the help of a sister-in-law preparing a feeding formula from a prescription found in a book on child care.

Phillips said information leading to Mrs. Drawdy's arrest apparently was found in a purse she left in the beer parlor.

Bomb Explosion Kills Palestine Constable

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, July 14 — A Palestine constable was killed and another wounded seriously in a gun fight with about 10 heavily armed men who placed bombs in a four-story building in the heart of Jerusalem last night.

About a dozen violent explosions shook the city. Several British constables billeted in the building were wounded slightly. The explosions and fire substantially damaged the building and also damaged others in the vicinity.

Armed with tommyguns and other weapons, the men who placed the bombs escaped after an exchange of shots with police and sentries.

AUTO MAKERS READY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14—Top ranking automobile makers set out today to make plans for partial resumption of passenger car production after the German collapse. The war production board was ready for the group—nine pre-war manufacturers making up its automobile industry advisory committee—with its "blue order" reconversion plan.

AMERICAN BOMBERS STRIKE FROM ITALY

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 14 — Another big allied aerial attack from the south was reported by the Germans today, while Britain-based bombers and fighters crossed the channel to continue battle-front support attacks which fliers report have driven the Nazis from even secondary roads.

The German radio traced new allied formations — presumably American bombers from Italian bases — sweeping up through the Danube basin into Hungary, and reported air battles were fought as the bombers and their fighter escort pushed through toward Budapest.

The new two-way forays followed a night of minor aerial activity during which a small force of RAF Mosquitos bombed unspecified targets in the Ruhr valley while other British planes laid mines in enemy waters. No planes were lost in these operations.

Although the weather in Normandy yesterday and last night held supporting operations to 500 sorties, these included some of the most intensive attacks yet made.

Sixteen German planes were shot down with seven allied planes reported missing thus far. Ten were destroyed by a squadron of Canadian Spitfires over Laigle, 63 miles southeast of Caen, in the biggest squadron coup of the Normandy campaign.

American Thunderbolt fighter bombers made what was described as one of the longest dive-bombing attacks to date against 14 important bridges battered during the day.

Between 30 and 40 "short order" missions requested by the ground forces were executed for the purpose of knocking out German strongpoints and gun positions in the path of advancing American forces.

killed and 5,000 captured in five days of street fighting that preceded the fall of Wilno, gateway city to the Baltic republics.

Noteworthy gains were made in the steady encirclement of Daugavpils, big rail hub in southern Latvia.

Gen. Yeremenko's Second Baltic army killed 3,000 Germans and captured at least 600 in the northern sector, while another 1,000 were killed and nearly 400 captured southwset of Lida, rail junction below Wilno.

Gen. Cherniakhovsky's Third White Russian army neared the rail centre of Grodno west of Lida, capturing Nova Ruda, 18 miles west of Grodno, in a 25-mile advance.

In the center of the long front Russian troops captured Rizhany, 60 miles northeast of Brest Litovsk, anchor point on the Germans' next defense line.

In all, several hundred villages and towns were taken in a general Russian advance all along the central, Baltic and Finnish fronts, the communique said.

London Has Fourth Rocket Free Night

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 14—London experienced its fourth successive bomb-free night last night, and while a few flying bombs fell in the southern counties and others hurtled over today, the robot raids appeared definitely checked—at least during hours of darkness.

Although there is no pretense that the flying bomb problem has been solved, the daily Allied pounding of launching sites and strengthened fighter patrol along the coast clearly are having good effect.

The man-in-the-street in London frankly expects Hitler to come up with some new "secret weapon"—perhaps a rocket bomb of five tons or more capable of shattering a skyscraper. But military men doubt that attacks by such aerial giants could be sustained for any length of time.

Concrete structures recently captured near Cherbourg apparently were intended as launching platforms for some sort of super rocket bomb.

U. S. TANKER SUNK

BARRANQUILLA, Colombia, July 14—Sinking of the American tanker Harrisburg was disclosed today with the landing of a group of survivors who said the ship had been torpedoed by a German submarine off the Colombian coast. (The dispatch did not make clear how many of the crew had survived the sinking.)

TO ASK OK OF SCHOOL PLAN

Expanded Program To Be Placed Before State Legislature.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 14—The Ohio legislature will be asked to approve a plan for expansion of the Ohio public school system to include kindergarten and two years of post-high school training, the Ohio School Superintendent's association announced yesterday.

The association's plan was outlined by President D. H. Patton, assistant superintendent of Toledo schools, at the annual meeting of the institute of state school administrators.

He said that unless a special session of the legislature is called meanwhile, the group's recommendations would be placed before the next regular session in January, 1945.

The plan would be optional, Patton said, first with the various school districts, secondly with the students. The training would be subsidized at state and local expense.

Predicts Acceptance

He predicted that if the plan were approved by the legislature virtually every school in the state would welcome the addition to its curriculum.

Patton said he hoped it would be possible to arrange college credit for some of the post-high school work, the 13th and 14th years, but that the chief objective of offering the courses would be to aid students who could not afford to attend college, young war veterans desiring refresher courses and high school graduates who were undecided as to what future course they wanted to pursue.

The state also will be asked to provide special classes for mentally handicapped and emotionally maladjusted and retarded children and those with defective speech who are educatable, Patton said.

Local school districts could share the cost of such a program, he asserted.

Want Greater Aid

Patton declared that in an effort to guarantee rural and small school districts a minimum standard of education the state will be asked to increase its share of Ohio's public school costs from the present 38 to at least 50 per cent, the additional 12 per cent being used to rehabilitate the schools in the areas where standards have dropped below normal.

Walter L. Tarr, Cincinnati, chairman of the Ohio school survey commission, said that group likely would recommend the state assume the full cost of transporting children to school, a program which he estimated would cost $1,500,000 annually.

Establishment of several vocational schools throughout Ohio was advocated by A. J. Dillenay, director of curriculum and instruction in Akron schools. He reported the recommendation of 40 educators who attended a workshop at Miami university two weeks ago.

Ohioan Pilot Of Wrecked Fortress

By The Associated Press

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 14—An Army search and rescue squad hacked its way through dense woods today toward the wreckage of a B-17 Flying Fortress on a hill north of the Rangeley lakes in Maine.

2nd Lt. John T. Cast, husband of Mrs. Glenna Cast of Springfield, O., was pilot of the craft.

Fragments of the bomber were spotted from the air yesterday after an extensive search by 100 Army and civil air patrol planes and an undisclosed number of Navy and Royal Canadian air force craft.

Wreckage first was seen by an observation plane from Grenier Field, Manchester, N. H., and Army authorities said it seemed "almost impossible that anybody survived the crash."

GEN. LEAR COMMANDS U. S. GROUND FORCES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14—The war department announced today that Lt. Gen. Ben Lear has been assigned to command of the Army ground forces, relieving Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair who has been given "an important overseas assignment."

McNair has commanded the ground forces since March, 1942. While on an inspection trip to North Africa in April, 1943, he was wounded by shell fragments. Lear assumed temporary command of ground forces at that time.

Lear, former commander of the Second Army, was assigned a year ago to the Army group, a pool of general officers which is drawn upon for unspecified assignments.

Lear was born in Hamilton, Canada, May 12, 1879. He came up from the ranks after enlisting in the first Colorado infantry volunteers on May 1, 1898.

He is a veteran of much overseas service, having served in the Philippines and Cuba among other places. He was on the war department general staff in the first World war.

While commanding the Second Army, headquartered at Memphis, Tenn., in 1941, Geenral Lear precipitated a widespread pre-war controversy over Army discipline when he ordered a group of soldiers to undertake a forced march between Little Rock, Ark., and Memphis, because some of them had yelled "you-hoo" at shorts-clad girls of a Memphis golf course.

tion by the national WLB on an appeal from the regional WLB decision completely disallowing or granting wage increases less than agreed by the company and recommended by a WLB hearing officer.

Union officials did not term the employes' action a strike, but a protest against the WLB ruling. Harper, however, said he believed the work stoppage violated labor's no-strike pledge.

Glass Workers Dissatisfied

In Marietta, O., Harry Cook, president of the AFL American Flint Glass Workers, termed "unsatisfactory" a reply by William H. Davis, WLB board chairman, to union demands for "definite and favorable" WLB action on union requests for wage increases. He said the glass workers would be guided by decisions of their convention, now in session in Marietta.

Davis had advised Cook, the latter said, that a panel report in the glass workers wage case would be made next week, but the union chief advised him the union would comply with the convention's action respecting filing of a notice for a strike vote. No date for the strike vote call has been designated, Cook said. Demands for wage increases averaging about 15 per cent for glass workers have been before the WLB for nine months, he said.

In Grand Rapids, Mich., the Michigan CIO council convention voted allegiance to the national CIO's no-strike pledge.

Oil Company Contest Awards Presented

A dinner, at which awards were presented to winners in a recent sales contest, was held by district managers and service station managers of the Standard Oil Co. in the Marion area Wednesday night at Hotel Harding. Covers were placed for 50. J. P. Sharkey, divisional manager, gave a talk on future plans for carrying on the company's business. Arrangements for the meeting were in charge of F. L. Barnhart, assistant divisional manager.

FERGUSON CONSIDERING VICE PRESIDENTIAL RACE

State Auditor Says He May Be Candidate.

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., July 14 — State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson last night disclosed he was "seriously considering" becoming a vice presidential candidate at the Democratic national convention in Chicago next week.

Ferguson told a meeting of the Licking county party leaders and candidates that if he decides to seek the office John Nolan, Jefferson county Democratic leader, will make the nominating speech in his behalf.

The state auditor, who is Ohio's "favorite son" presidential candidate, controlling 51 of the state's convention votes, said he would release his delegates to vote for a fourth term for President Roosevelt.

Ferguson said the main purpose of his proposed candidacy was to give himself "a better opportunity to expose Gov. Bricker, Republican vice presidential nominee, and the spendthrift Republican administration in Ohio the past six years."

"The official records of the state show that the Republican administration did not inherit a deficit at all.

"I should like to have the opportunity to expose these fraudulent claims of our present Republican administration and I believe I can best accomplish this end by being an avowed candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket."

Ferguson said he expects to arrive in Chicago Monday. The convention opens Wednesday.

REV. AUER OF GALION ON KIWANIS PROGRAM

Former International Officer Is Guest Speaker Here.

Rev. Philip E. Auer of Galion, immediate past vice president of Kiwanis International, was guest speaker at the Thursday noon meeting of the Kiwanis club at Hotel Harding. He outlined the objectives and activities of Kiwanis.

A military service card was presented to Flight Lieutenant Fred V. H. Collins of England, who has been stationed at the Marion Engineer Depot and who became a member of the Kiwanis club in Marion. He is leaving to take up new military duties in Philadelphia.

Lester Clum won a northern pike caught by Cicero Zachman while vacationing in Canada.

Lt. Isadore Birnbaum, Staff Sargeant Sam Birnbaum, Robert Crall of Dayton, Maycren Miller of Mansfield, Wayne Zerkle and Marion Wykoff were guests.

OHIO STATE LEAGUE ALL-STARS BEAT NEWARK 19 TO 3

2,484 See Moundsmen Fall Before Best in Loop.

By MIKE KRUMLAUF
Newark Advocate Sports Writer
Special to The Star

NEWARK, O., JULY 14—The fans in the Ohio State league know good ball players when they see them.

This fact was emphasized here last night as the league's all star selections ran roughshod over the Newark Moundsmen, host club, 19-3, before an overflow crowd of 2,484 paid sepertators.

The stars unleashed a potent 16-hit barrage, paced by big Herb Schmeidetke, (Lima) who had two triples and a pair of singles in five official trips to the plate.

Bain Smith of Middletown, Bernie Fiest of Zanesville, Ed Bailey of Marion and Long Tom, Faulkner of Springfield combined to hold the hard-hitting Moundsmen to a measly half dozen blows, the heftiest being Manager Clay Bryant's pinch double in the sixth which scored Frezza from second.

Bob Jenkins, Don Spence and Leo Counes toiled on the mound for the home club but it didn't matter to the stars who threw them up—they batted all kinds of pitching with gusto and abandon.

Herb Schmeidetke's triple with one away in the first was followed by Senko's fielder's choice to break the ice. Zernia followed with a single but Jenkins retired the side with but a single run. The stars were blanked in the second, then added a pair in the third on Bowa's single, Schmeidetke's second triple and a one base smash by Senko.

Spence took over and blanked the stars in the fourth but six hits and two of the nine errors the befuddled Moundsmen contributed during the game allowed a half dozen markers to trickle across the pan. Schmiedetke had a single as did Zernia, Reside, Dernier and Fiest while Daues came through with a two base blow. Spence got the side out without a run in the sixth.

Then came the deluge.

Leo Counes went to the hill for the Moundsmen and had about as much success locating the plate as Hitler's buzz bombs have in locating a strategic objective.

Three bases on balls, a hit batsman, a wild pitch, a sacrifice by Bailey, a double by Derner and a single by Reside gave the stars six more runs on only two hits and they added another trio on three singles and a brace of Newark errors in the eighth.

Then the pay off came in the stars final turn at bat. Lembo fanned to open the inning and Dernier drew a walk, he stole second and third, then added insult to injury by a clean theft of home—all of his pilfering coming on successive pitches.

Manager Red Barnes' hurlers had Newark's batters completely under control. Smith gave up but one hit in two innings while blanking the Bryantmen. Fiest was touched for a run and two hits during his two-inning tenure, the run being scored by the lead off man in the sixth who reached first on a walk, advanced to second on a fielder's choice and scored on Spence's long single.

Bailey's free ticket to Case to open the sixth was followed by two fielder's choices, Frezza's single and Bryant's double for two hits and two runs during his two innings of toil.

Faulkner pitched the last three frames for the stars and allowed but two men to reach first, Volan getting there when his easy roller was bobbled by Clayton in the seventh, while McDonald pasted a single to center in the eighth.

'Hard Luck' Smith Beaten Again by St. Louis Browns

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 14 — Al Smith's hard luck is consistent—if anything.

The Cleveland Indians' veteran southpaw pitched one of the best games of his career for nine innings last night and yet was beaten by his jinx club, the St. Louis Browns, because of an unearned run sent the game into overtime.

The defeat, 4 to 1 in 10 innings, was Smith's seventh of the season against four triumphs, and prevented the Indians from sweeping the two-night double header and picking up two full games on the American league pace setters. The Tribe won the opener 6 to 5.

Smitty held the Browns to four singles over the regulation distance and would have registered a 1 to 0 victory but for Ken Keltner's wild throw in the second stanza.

The Indians won the twilight affair by launching a 15-hit attack upon three St. Louis hurlers, including Roy Cullenbine's 10th home run, an inside-the-park smash that lifted him into a tie with Bobby Doerr, Bud Metheny and Frank Hayes for the league leadership. Allie Reynolds notched his 10th win but had to have Hevings assistance in the seventh.

Sandwich Bar Beats DeMolay; Co. M Wins Over Isaly Nine

Sandwich Bar continued its winning way in the Industrial softball league last night by defeating DeMolay, 14 to 4. Weiss won his sixth straight game for the Sandwich Bar nine. Askew was the losing pitcher. Weiss struck out 11 batters and issued seven walks. Askew issued five walks and struck out none.

Co. M defeated the Isaly nine in the other game of the evening. Co. M scored four runs in the first half of the first inning to gain a margin that Isaly could not overcome. The first three batters up for Co. M hit safely before Tony Caprino could get settled and an error put the fourth batter on base. The next three went out but not before the four big runs had crossed the plate. Isaly scored one run in the first inning and two in the third to make the score three to four but Co. M put the game away with two runs in the fifth inning. Bowles was the winning pitcher and Caprino the losing pitcher.

The Sunday School Boys' softball league will open its season Friday night at 6:30. This is the first time such a league has been organized. The age limit is 13 years. Any boy who has not reached his fourteenth birthday before Friday, July 14, is eligible to play with the Sunday school of which he is a member. The league will play on Friday nights on the Garfield and McKinley park diamonds and the Central Junior High diamond. The opening games are Forest Lawn Presbyterian against Calvary at Garfield park, Central Christian against First Presbyterian at McKinley park, and Epworth Methodist against First Church of the Brethren at Central Junior High diamond. United Brethren has a bye and will not play this week.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, July 14 — You won't hear this mentioned very loudly, but one objection to Jack Zeller's latest proposal of moving baseball players up to the big leaguers only through the draft route might be that it isn't quite legal... That's a touchy subject in sports when club owners long have protected their interests through a sort of "job freezing."... But this corner recently cooked up an idea for dealing with high school and college kids through a system akin to the pro football "draft" (it sounded swell, too) only to hear from some wise baseball men that it infringed the player's rights and never would stand a legal test.

Safety First?

The Dodgers are starting "scrap waste paper collectoin day" at Ebbets field when they play the Reds next Thursday and any one bringing 25 pounds or more of paper can get in by paying only the tax.... Leave it to Branch Rickey to figure out that any guy lugging that much wouldn't bring anything to throw at the athletes.

One-Minute Sports Page

The Brooklyn Tigers are busy denying reports that All-America Creighton Miller has signed to play with them, arising from the fact that Miller has been visiting the night spots with Capt. Dan Topping and that Dan is tossing a press luncheon today. But it's a cinch he will sign eventually.... Mike Cestone, the Metropolitan amateur golf champion, plans to caddy for his 12-year-old son in the coming public links tournament at Branch Brook. That's really a postman's holiday.... As a result of Tuesday's clouting, the National league All-Stars finally have a better batting average than the Americans. Over a 12-game stretch, the Nationals have hit .2518 and the junior leagues .2506.

Larsen, McGee Win "Battle Royal" Contest

Winners in a battle royal of wrestling matches held last night at the Armory were Cy Larsen and Irish McGee, who managed to outlast four other tusslers and win a place in a two-hour main-go. Next to the winners were Tex Riley, who stayed in for 13 minutes, and Dutch Schultz, out in five minutes. They were paired in a 45-minute semi-final. To the showers went the first two out of the running, Gorilla Pogi, who went out in four minutes, and Angelo Martinelli, who survived three minutes.

In the 45-minute semi-final in which Schultz and Riley were paired Schultz took the first fall in 15 minutes and Riley took the next in 11 minutes. Time was up before either contestant could bring about a fall and the match ended in a draw.

Last night's wrestling matches were the last to be staged here until September, Promoter Les Fishbaugh announced earlier this week.

Grippo Declares Melio Bettina Can Take Louis' Crown

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, July 14—Jimmy Grippo, who manages fighters as a business and practices "hexing" and legerdemain as a hobby, believes he is going to pull a heavyweight champion out of the hat by the time this war is over—and a corporal of the military police at that.

"If I could close my contract for our bout with Joe Louis we'd have it right away," the bushy-haired hynotist-magician said today. "But the army won't let Louis fight."

Party of the second part in the conversation was Melio Bettina, one-time holder of the New York version of the light-heavyweight crown and today rated fifth among the heavyweights by the National Boxing association.

And the Louis-Bettina contract dates back to a scheduled date for March 27, 1942—a date never filled when the army placed a ban on Louis insofar as fighting is concerned.

The Beacon, N. Y., belter, who got ring dust in his eyes recently after retiring last September, was here to ready himself for his third comeback bout at Forbes Field next Tuesday against Curtis (the Hatchet Man) Sheppard of Pittsburgh.

Bettina went into the Army two years ago, fought only two bouts last year and retired after the second when he lost a 10-round decision to Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland. That loss—he had beaten Bivins 10 months before—broke a 14-bout winning streak he had compiled after graduating to the heavyweight division.

Among his victims in that stretch were Red Burman, Gus Dorazio, Buddy Knox, Mose Brown and Harry Bobo—the latter twice.

Since he hit the comeback trail a few weeks ago he has knocked out John D. Vorce, the Detroit clown, and beat Buddy Walker of Columbus, O.

"He's in better shape now than he ever was," Grippo said.

Wakefield Answers Question About Returning Ball Players

By The Associated Press

Can Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Bobby Feller, Johnny Vander Meer and scores of other big leaguers in service pick up where they left off when they come marching home from war?

The question that has puzzled club owners and fans alike was answered partially yesterday when Dick Wakefield, recently "detached" from the Navy's Iowa Pre-Flight School, stepped into a Detroit uniform and banged out two hits in the Tigers' 9-1 slaughter of Chicago.

Wakefield has not seen active service, and soon may be called away from the Tigers by the Army, but a parallel can be drawn between him and others who have been much more distantly removed from big league pitching. Judging from first day impressions, it may not be so tough for the stars to resume their careers.

Wakefield's two hits helped the Tigers rout Orval Grove with an eight-run spurt in the second as Paul "Dizzy" Trout coasted to his 11th win.

St. Louis held its 2½-game margin in the American flag race by scoring three times in the 10th for a 4-1 victory in the second game after bowing to Cleveland, 6-5, in the opener of a two-night doubleheader.

Boston and the New York Yankees divided two games as they opened a vital six-game series. The Yanks took the first 4-2 as Ernie Bonham outpitched Rookie Red Barrett with the help of Bud Metheny's two-run homer. Yank Terry scattered six New York blows in the finale after the Sox hopped on Atley Donald for four unearned runs in an 8-4 triumph.

Al Jurisich of the Cards got the nod over Jim Konstanty of the Reds in a tight 11-inning National league duel when Danny Litwhiler doubled home Walker Cooper for a 3-2 edge over Cincinnati.

Frank Coleman's pinch triple enabled Pittsburgh to top Chicago 3-2 for its fifth straight and win No. 6 for Fritz Ostermueller. Hank Wyse was the loser.

The New York-Philly night game was rained out, and Brooklyn-Boston in the National and Philadelphia-Washington in the American had open dates.

Fighting Scott Wins Mile in 2:04 1/4 Time

CLEVELAND, O., July 14 — Fighting Scot turned in a 2:04¼ mile—fastest time registered by a three-year-old trotter this year—in winning the first heat of the $2,500 Peninsular Farm stake at North Randall yesterday, but his disposition got the better of him in the next two whirls.

The Scotland-sired Hambletonian candidate, owned by Joseph F. Burke of Plainfield, N. J., broke gait at the start of the second heat and again later on and finished ninth and last. He was a poor sixth in the terminating scramble over a distance of five and one-half furlongs.

TOLEDO DROPS HALF OF DOUBLE HEADER

By The Associated Press

Toledo's Mudhens lost a golden opportunity to pick up valuable ground in the chase to overhaul Milwaukee's flying Brewers last night when they dropped the nightcap of a twin bill to Louisville, 8 to 5, after blanking the Colonels in the forepiece, 1 to 0.

Milwaukee divided a shortened double header with Minneapolis, taking a 7 to 5 decision in the opener, as they finished a game halted in the ninth inning the previous night because of power failure. The Millers bounced back to score a 10 to 3 decision in the second test.

Jack Creel's eight-hit hurling enabled Columbus to gain a half game on the Brewers as the Red Birds took a 2 to 1 10-inning decision over tailend Indianapolis.

St. Paul squeezed over the .500 mark with a double win over Kansas City, 11 to 4 and 5 to 2.

Al Seinsoth tossed a four-hit shutout at Louisville in the opener as Toledo won 1 to 0. Toledo took a 3 to 1 lead in the second game, but the Colonels, with a blistering 17-hit assault, rallied to win 8 to 5.

PREDICTS WILLKIE WILL BACK DEWEY

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., July 14—Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.), who placed Wendell L. Willkie in nomination for the Republican presidential candidacy four years ago, predicted today Willkie would support Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for the presidency.

Halleck, chairman of the G.O.P. congressional campaign committee, told reporters after a two-hour conference with Dewey, that he had not seen Willkie or heard from him, but added:

"My view is that he will support the ticket."

He predicted that "we will have a Republican house of representatives" after the November election and said he had told Dewey that as well as expressing confidence in the latter's election. Republicans now hold 212 seats in the house where 218 consitutes a majority.

Halleck said he had a "very satisfactory" talk with the presidential nominee, principally on the coordination of the presidential and vice presidential campaigns with the campaigns for congressional seats.

"I have been tremendously impressed with the orderly, cooperative way that he (Dewey) is approaching the campaign," Halleck asserted. "This obviously is not going to be a one-man show."

Kenton Man Misses Ill-Fated Flight

Special to The Star

KENTON, July 14—The gods smiled on Flight Officer Robert James, Kenton, on a recent one-way flight. He was serving as officer-of-the-day June 24 when fellow crew-members on a B-24 Liberator bomber flew from the U. S. Army air base in Italy on a mission over enemy territory. Their plane was shot down but others in the armada said they saw each crew member bail out and parachute earthward. Today, the pilot's wife is receiving telephone messages and letters from relatives of others in the crew, seeking information and offering condolences, not knowing that F. O. James was not on the craft at time it was shot down.

HONEST MILKMAN

By International News Service

LEWISTOWN, Pa.—A fallen street light was responsible for the recovery of $1,600 in war bonds and cash belonging to Mrs. Edna Geibel of Lewistown. A milkman, who stopped during his routine delivery to remove the globe from the street, discovered the money in a tin box lying beside it.

Hong Kong was ceded by China to Britain in 1841.

SALVATION ARMY HAS BUDGET PREPARED

Presentation Made at Thursday Night Board Meeting.

Presentation of the 1944-45 budget, reports on activities and progress of the Salvation Army and future plans for the expansion of the organization's program in Marion were major business matters which came before the advisory board of the Salvation Army corps Thursday night at Hotel Marion. Meeting with the board was Major Horace Weatherly, divisional secretary, of Cincinnati.

C. Z. Zachman, chairman of the board, presided. The budget, which will be presented to the Marion Community Foundation, Inc., of which the Salvation Army is a participating agency, was presented to the board by Major Weatherly, and following a discussion of the various expenditures and estimates to carry on the work here, was unanimously approved by the members.

Captain Mary Nisiewicz, in charge of the Marion corps, gave a brief summary of the Army's program which included organization of a Boy Scout troop and cub pack, Vacation Bible school and other activities which contribute to the civic as well as the Army's progress, and discussed her plans for the future.

Lt. Mary Davis, who recently was graduated from the Salvation Army training school in Cincinnati, and who will assist Captain Nisiewicz with the work of the corps here, was presented and Fire Chief Owen Sifritt, who succeeds Chief T. J. McFarland as an active member of the board, was welcomed. Chief McFarland will serve as an honorary member of the advisory board.

ARRANGE RITES

BUCYRUS, July 14—Rites will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Munz funeral home for Mrs. Caroline Assenheimer, 83, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Winemiller in Whetstone township, Wednesday night. Burial will be made in Oakwood cemetery. Born in Germany November 7, 1860, Mrs. Assenheimer came to this country as a small child. Her marriage to Christ Assenheimer took place in 1880. Her husband died 25 years ago. Three children survive.

Son of Kenton Woman Killed Over Germany

Special to The Star

KENTON, July 14—S. Sergt. Clinton W. (Bud) Kraft, son of Mrs. R. N. Schoonover of Kenton, today was reported killed in action over Germany on May 12. Previously he had been listed by the war department as missing on a mission over the enemy territory and friends had hoped he landed safely after his craft cracked up. He was radio man and gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber.

SOME BUYING STEADIES LIST

Tone Is Fairly Even Although Some Issues Slip to Lower Levels.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 14—Selective buying helped the stock market keep its balance fairly well in today's market although many leaders slipped to moderately lower levels.

Mixed tendencies prevailed after a moderately steady start.

Occasional gainers of fractions to a point included Southern Pacific, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Du Pont and American Can. On the offside most of the time were U. S. Steel, Great Northern, Chrysler and Deere.

tanks and armored infantry to prevent entrapment.

Battle Blazes Anew

The whole front was relatively stable overnight but blazed up anew this morning. Broken storm clouds filled the skies but Allied planes circled early over the frontlines to bomb and harass the enemy.

Troops wedging through the hedgerows along the coastal sector made the greatest gains. Since taking off yesterday morning they have added more than 1,000 yards of farmland to their gains toward Lessay and Periers, the western German bulwarks.

The Nazis were compelled to give ground in order to concentrate their forces elsewhere.

The heaviest German counterattack was made about 10 o'clock last night with tanks and armored infantry near the village of Auxais, southwest of Carentan. It was a slugfest for two hours. Then the action petered out, and this morning the Americans were reported mopping up the area. Earlier, Yank attacks in the marsh and ridgelands southwest of Carentan were met by stiff counter-attacks in which both sides ended up even.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's army improved its situation substantially, however, with the capture of Les Champs De Losque, eight miles due south of Carentan. This gave them control of the road from St. Jean De Daye.

Yanks Take Prisoners

In fighting near Pont Hebert where the crossroads still is littered with burned German corpses and ruined hulks of more than a dozen Panther tanks—the battle debris left by a Nazi armored column which made an abortive drive to cut the beachhead in half—prisoners were taken.

The stout German defense north of the Lessay-St. Lo road—while rear elements prepare new defenses farther back—is proving expensive in personnel as well as equipment. Some prisoners have reported a high number of casualties in their units in recent days as a result of the intense fighting and the shattering American artillery bombardments.

In the battling around Pont Hebert Nazi parachute troopers tried a new version of an old trick.

"A platoon of them started hollering 'kamerad' and walked toward our lines with their hands up," said Capt. Herman Rozolsky of Alexandria, La. "One of our lieutenants stepped out to direct them to where to march to give themselves up.

"But when the Nazis were within small arms range they suddenly jumped into positions they had dug in advance, grabbed up weapons they had cashed there and opened fire.

"Our boys had to fall back a little in the face of the barrage from their automatic weapons, but they reorganized and soon recovered the ground.

"That kind of fighting makes it rough on the Nazis when we finally back them into a corner they cant run from."

GERMAN MASSACRE IN FRANCE REPORTED

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 14—The French press service said last night nearly 800 persons were massacred June 10 by the Germans in the village of Oradour-Sur-Glane, central France. It said the men were shot, and the women and children died inside a locked church which first was dynamited and then set afire.

Only "seven or eight" of the town's population escaped, the agency said, and all buildings were burned.

There were contradictory reports as to the reason for the German act.

"Some say an arms dump was found in the village, others that some Germans were killed there," the agency said.

he press service reported German troops arrived in the village at 1:30 p. m. and the commander directed that the entire population assemble on the fairgrounds. The men were marched away in small groups and shot. The women and children then were herded into the church for slaughter.

TRIAL OPENS. Lt. Howard E. Stittsworth, 21, (above) of Wakefield, Kans., faces a general court martial for trial at Marana Field, Ariz., on a charge of murder in the auto-plane collision death of a civilian June 22. Stittsworth, a flying instructor at Luke Field, Ariz., is accused of piloting the plane which flew low over a highway striking an automobile with its wing and decapitating the driver, Earl Nepple of Los Angeles. LEGAL NOTICE

Ethel L. Hobson who resides at 1300 13th Street, Merced, California, will take notice that on the 5th day of July, 1944 the Plaintiff, Ernest W. Hobson, filed his Petition against her in the Court of Common Pleas of Marion County, Ohio, the same being Cause No. 27373 in said Court; Plaintiff in said Petition prays that he be granted a divorce from the Defendant and that a property settlement made between the parties be approved.

The Defendant is required to answer said Petition on or before the 19th day of August, 1944, or judgment will be taken according to law.

ERNEST W. HOBSON, Plaintiff
By Strelitz, Dowler & Wiedemann.

LEGAL NOTICE

The Board of County Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, will receive bids for an addition to the County Court House for Men's Public Toilet.

Bids will be received until 10 o'clock A. M., (C.W.T.) 11 o'clock A. M., (E.W.T.) on the 11th day of August 1944, by the Board of County Commissioners at the Commissioners office in the Court House at Marion, Ohio, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. At the next meeting of the Board of County Commissioners following receipt of said bids, formal action will be taken toward the awarding of the contract.

Plans and specifications are on file in Columbus Builders Exchange, Columbus, Ohio, and the Auditor's Office of Marion County, Ohio, and includes the furnishing of labor at the wage rates prevailing in Marion County, as set forth in the specifications, and material for the following items: Masonry work, carpenter work, structural steel, floor covering, tile and marble work, electric wiring and fixtures, lathing and plastering, plumbing and plumbing fixtures, heating and sheet metal work, painting and decorating.

Each bid must be accompanied by cash or certified check on some solvent bank in an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the estimated cost of the improvement, made payable to the order of the Board of Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, for the benefit of said County which will be forfeited by the successful bidder or bidders in case they fail to enter into a contract within five days from the date of award.

Drawings and specifications may be obtained from the Architect for the personal use of the contractor upon deposit of a check in the amount of $10.00. The amount of the deposit will be returned to the contractor upon return of set of plans and specifications with deductions made for actual reproductions.

The successful bidder will be required to give bond in an amount at least equal to 100 per cent of the contract price as security for the faithful performance of this contract and for the payment of all persons performing labor on the project and furnishing materials in connection with the contract.

Bids may be made upon blank forms furnished by the Architect and may be for the whole or for any separate trades mentioned in the plans and specifications. The bids must not exceed the estimate as set forth in said plans and specifications.

The Board of Marion County Commissioners reserve the right to accept the lowest responsible bid or reject all bids.

WHEAT PRICES DIP NEAR LOAN LEVEL

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 14—Wheat futures dipped to near the loan level in early trading today, then bounced back to hold a fairly steady course the remainder of the session. Commission houses and commercial interests were on both sides of the market.

A fairly substantial trade in September was regarded as a sustaining factor in the market. There was some hedging pressure and price changes were mixed. Generally there was little interest in the market, traders cautiously limiting their operations, afraid to press the selling side at a time when prices were so near the loan.

There was practically no trade in rye and brokers drifted from the pit as the day wore on. Offerings by local operators supplied the limited commission house demand.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I HAD overheard Gus "explaining everything" to Junior and Roderick, according to my instructions, and knew that he not only was enjoying his job but was embroidering it. That the boys were tense with excitement I realized, as I did their impatience at the delay to our entrance caused by the car drawn up just inside the big doors of the Chinese food factory whose proprietor was one of my father's most trusted men.

It really was but a short time, however, before the car was filled up, and came out into the street. Joe did not waste a second in taking the big armored car through the doorway. A man suddenly materialized from the office, nodded to Joe, and closed the big street doors of the factory. Joe drove the big armored car across the room as if he intended to go through an apparently immovable wall of steel with a small door at one side. But even before he reached it, the steel wall, really a partition, rose into the air — I guessed because of some button pressed by the man who had closed the street doors—and the car rolled through into the big back room I remembered so vividly. It was the one through which Nurse Whitlock and I had led blindfolded Carolyn Brixton, preparatory and college roommate of Lillian Underwood's winsome daughter, Marion Morton, for her meeting with Rico, the "collegiate gangster" to whom she thought she was legally married.

Tragedy Averted

Only Marion's daring, her quick wit, her resourcefulness and her sacrifice, which came so near to ending in tragedy, had saved Carolyn, and led to the discovery that Rico already was married before he went through the ceremony with the beautiful but unstable girl.

We all knew that Marion's giving herself up to capture by the gangsters was motivated not only by her affection for her roommate but by her great love for her fiance, Ronald Brixton, Carolyn's brother. The knowledge, however, did not mitigate the suffering of Marion's mother, her fiance, and the rest of us who loved the girl, in the days before her rescue.

I knew that the memories would not now plague me so much, were it not for the fact of Lillian's vague reference to her belief that more work would be better for her, and her husband's insistence that she keep from over-exertion because of her blood pressure.

Something was worrying my best friend, stanch comrade of many years, and I was sure that her anxiety was connected in some way with her idolized daughter, now a junior at Weirhampton, with Carolyn still her room-mate.

Possibility

Was it possible, I wondered, that popular, attractive, but rattle-brained Carolyn Brixton was again getting out of hand, and that Marion was risking her own comfort, or her reputation, or even her safety by protecting her?

I had no time, however, to dwell upon memories, for from the back of the big room a man's figure advanced rapidly, despite his age, and the next minute I was out of the car and in my father's arms. The boys, with all the luggage, followed me, and Joe and Gus drove the car into a corner of the room.

"My dearest!" my father whispered. "It is so good to see you again!"

Then he released me, and stared incredulously at Junior and Roderick. But he postponed the disapproving query which I knew was trembling on his lips until he had greeted them cordially with hearty handclasps.

"How are you, boys?" he asked. "I suppose you came along to see the city?"

Important

"Oh, no, Grandpa Spencer," Junior answered with a touch of importance in his manner. "We never thought of that. Not that we wouldn't like to," he amended "but we won't have time. We just came along to help Mama."

"To help your mother," he repeated quickly. Then I managed to catch his eye and at the message he evidently read in mine he curbed his impatience and his disapproval.

"Perhaps we can manage to have you do both," he told them with a smile, and I knew that they were concealing a wriggle of pleasure with difficulty.

"Now," he said briskly, "if you'll just come with me."

He led us to a narrow door in the wall, and ushered us through into another room which I recognized as the central room of the basement around which, and opening into it, are the soundproof "dungeons" for which my father sometimes finds use.

"Shake or nod your head," my father said in low tones as he waved the boys ahead of us. "Is this anything that can wait until the boys eat and go to bed?"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Navy Doctor's Fat Test

You hear, the expression—"He weighs 140 pounds and it's all bone and muscle." And again, less admiringly—"240 pounds of blubber."

There is good physiology behind such estimates. It is not difficult to spot the fellow who is manifestly overweight for his height, but who looks as if it were natural flesh—it's muscle and he a sure enough strong man. And quite as easy to diagnose that roly-poly who may have a few muscles left but all of them are larded and covered and infiltrated with fat cells.

Not only that but there is a fundamental difference in the outlook for these different kinds of people. The warnings against the dangers of overweight do not apply to the first fellow. His muscles will keep him active and his arteries supple and burn up his energy and so avoid the diabetes and heart disease that go with the other group whose overweight goes by the less beautiful name of obesity.

It is fairly easy, as I say, by a mere glance to spot the extreme examples among these groups. But what about the intermediates—the fatties who are pretty active, the bull moose who looks just a little puffy? If a person is overweight and belligerently contends it is all muscle, and the doctor thinks otherwise, is there any exact scientific test to prove which is right?

Yes, a method had been devised by some Navy doctors, from which I infer that it may be important for the armed forces to know whether their overweight men can really stand the gaff or not.

It should be called the "Eureka test," because it goes right back to the description of our old friend Archimedes on about page 276 of Myers' Ancient History. For the benefit of those who have forgotten or who are so young they never had the cultural advantages of that inspiring text book, let me remind them that Archimedes was the official scientist of Syracuse about 250 B. C. He was the government researcher for the tyrants of those parts, and on one occasion Heiron, the tyrant pro tem, who was thinking of indulging himself in a new crown, asked Archimedes to determine whether the proffered article was pure gold or alloyed with silver.

Offhand Archimedes didn't know of a way, but being a researcher he took his problems to his bath tub where he noticed that when Archimedes got in a certain amount of water slopped out. He realized that this was in accordance with density, or specific gravity, and that gold and silver would displace different amounts of water, so he did a nudist marathon to the palace crying—"Eureka" — upon which Heiron was very grateful to him and gave him a clean toga to go home in.

The Navy doctors, applying this principle, determined the specific gravity of different human bodies by hydrostatic weighing, i.e.—equivalent volume—weight in air minus weight in water allowing for error due to air in the lungs and intestines which they can calculate. They found that there is a difference in specific gravity between those who have extra fat and those made up of muscle. The specific gravity of fat men whose abdominal circumference approaches or exceeds that of the chest is 1020 to 1030. Lean men in the naval service with an average of 150 pounds weight have a specific gravity of about 1080.

In treatment it is much easier to remove the extra fat of the low specific gravities than that of the comparatively high specific gravities.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

B.L.: I have a very bad case of chronic laryngitis. I have tried numerous remedies, but nothing helps me. Is there something I can do to help cure me of this affliction?

Answer: In a stubborn case of this kind "remedies" are not calculated to do any good. The symptoms of laryngitis in your case are probably due to a wart, or some such growth, on the vocal cords. Go to a good throat specialist for a thorough examination and advice.
